COMPANY B IS INSPECTED

Major John P. Penny of Pittsburg, Examines Our Soldier Boys.

VISITING OFFICERS BANQUETED

A Large Crowd of Spectators Witness The Inspection Ceremonies—The Company Showed Up Well—A Dance Concludes The Evening's Program.

The annual inspection of Company B 5th Regiment, 2nd Brigade, stationed at this place, was held at the armory on Monday evening. Everything passed off well and the boys made an excellent showing.

Major John P. Penney of Pittsburg, the inspecting officer, arrived in Bellefonte on Monday morning. With him were Major J. P. Kennedy, Capt. W. C. McKee and Lieut. E. W. Smith of Blairsville, and Lieut. Col. Austin Curtin of Roland. A few hours were spent in this city in the morning and then the visiting officers, together with the local officers, journeyed to State College where Adjutant P. D. Foster tendered them a banquet. A merry hour was spent around the tables and then Lieut. A. W. McCaskey drew up the College Battalions in dress review. A splendid drill was gone through for the visitors in which the Cadets acquitted themselves nobly.

At 3.23 p. m. the party returned to Bellefonte. Adjutants J. M. Wolfe and P. D. Foster and Lieut. McCaskey accompanied them. Upon their arrival at this place they were met at the station with carriages and driven around the diffierent thoroughfares of the town. After some time spent in sight seeing the inspection of State property was made, after which the officers repaired to the hotel for supper.

The hour for inspection was 8 p. m., but long before that time every member of the company was at the armory ready for the trying ordeal. The Coleville band was in attendance and rendered some very pretty selections from the stage at the West end of the armory.

A large number of visitors were present to see the boys "put through" and they were well paid for their time. Many ladies were there and their presence lent a dignity to the occasion such as only a lady's presence can. The best of order was maintained at all times and there was not one single incident happened that could mar the military ceremony in the least.

Promptly at the appointed hour the inspecting officers arrived at the armory and immediately they were accorded a salute by the entire company. In a few seconds the work of inspection had commenced, and then for more than an hour the soldiers were put through the different movements. Captain Quigley and his able lieutenants, Jackson and Taylor, had worked hard to make a good showing with their company and their work was not in vain. Almost every movement was made with a grace and skill only acquired by hard and continuous practice. This is saying a good deal when one considers the large number of new men who have recently joined the company. But they were equal to the occasion and did far better than was expected. After part of the drilling and inspection of arms was through with the boys were put through the "setting up" exercises. Again they showed that they had not forgotten what they had learned and each man showed up well. The drilling was then resumed for a short time, after which came "guard mount." This was one of the prettiest features of the whole evening and elicited much applause from the many spectators. Guards were posted and thoroughly inspected in this line of duty. This concluded the inspection ceremonies and the company was dismissed.

Dancing was immediately commenced and it was kept up for several hours. The music, as furnished by the Coleville band, was more than satisfactory, and this made this part of the program a very enjoyable one.

A banquet was given at the Bush House, after the work at the armory was over, in honor of the visiting officers, and they all made merry until a reasonable hour, when everybody departed for home feeling that the evening had been one very profitably spent.

Death of William Klinger.

William Klinger, an old resident of Bellefonte and a brother of Mrs. George W. Marshall of this place, died last Friday at Big Run, Jefferson county. Deceased was about 50 years old and was well known throughout this community. He left Bellefonte about four years ago and since that time has made his home in Jefferson county.

THE CENTRAL CONFERENCE.

Six Delegates Instead of Five Elected—Bradley Hall Freed of Debt.

Williamsport, Pa., March 22.—At yesterday's session of the Central Methodist Episcopal Conference the morning was taken up listening to reports from various committees and the conferring of orders on elders. The report of the book room at Harrisburg for the year ending February 29, 1896, showed total sales amounting to $34,666.19. Merchandise, as per inventory, $12,656.72; receivable, $14,162.51; real estate, $15,000; fixtures, $2,013; cash on hand, $780.88. Total assets, $44,613.11. The liabilities are: Capital stock, $26,000; accounts payable, $13,416.56; periodicals to be supplied, $4,394.31. Total, $43,809.87. Net gain, $803.34. Surplus in bank, $290.92.

In the afternoon the Women's Foreign Missionary Society held their meeting. During the day the ministers decided to elect six instead of five delegates to the General Conference, and Rev. W. M. Frysinger of Carlisle was chosen as the sixth delegate. A collection was also taken up to free Bradley Hall of debt, and $5,300, the amount needed, was soon raised. Hon. Thomas Bradley, of Philadelphia, founder of the annex, assumed the full amount. Among the speakers during the day was ex-Gov. Pattison, who dwelt on the great and increasing good work of the Methodist church.

At to-day's session of the Conference Bishop Vincent ordained the newly elected elders and deacons. The anniversary of the Freedman's Aid and Southern Society was addressed by Rev. J. W. Hamilton of Boston. The anniversary of the Church Extension Society was presided over by Secretary Rev. W. A. Spencer. The Missionary Society meeting to-night was addressed by Rev. A. D. Leonard of New York, while the Missionary anniversary was addressed by Rev. Ross Taylor New York. Rev. A. W. Ames of Washington addressed the deaconesses on the anniversary of the Women's Home Missionary Society. Rev. A. W. Hontz of Shickshinny delivered an address to deaf mutes this afternoon.

All the pulpits of this city were supplied by members of the Conference and large numbers of people attended.

The Boys May Escape.

New Castle, Pa., March 23.—A curious case has arisen in the criminal court in this city. Two young boys named Henry and Zimmer, of Beaver county, were indicted for the larceny of a copper kettle. The alleged crime was committed in Ellwood, and the two were arrested in Beaver county, and the kettle found in their possession. The jury which tried the case found them not guilty of larceny, but guilty of receiving stolen goods. When they were about to receive their sentence their attorney sprung a surprise in the shape of an assertion that the Lawrence county judge had no jurisdiction in the case, for if the jury found them not guilty of the larceny of the kettle, the receiving of the stolen goods must have been done in Beaver county, and the Lawrence county judge had no jurisdiction because the trial should have taken place in Beaver county. Judge Miller reserved his decision.

War Over a Church Election.

Sharon, Pa., March 22.—There is trouble brewing among the directors of the Methodist Episcopal Sunday School at Sharpsville, caused by the election of officers last week. There were two members of the church after the superintendency. E. W. Hawk and A. Roberts, and by balloting Hawk was chosen. Roberts now claims that the election was illegal, as four of the ballots were cast by members who had no right to sit with the board. The election will be contested and laid before the conference committe, which will meet soon.

Sleep-Walker Broke His Neck.

Erie, Pa., March 22.—Henry Freeman, for nearly 30 years foreman in Ashby & Vincent's printing establishm nt, got up in his sleep at 3 o'clock this morning and fell down stairs. His neck was broken, but he lived several hours. He talked rationally, and said he was not conscious of walking in his sleep until he fell. Attendants waited upon him until about 6 o'clock, when he moved his head a little and he died at once.

Want Mitchell and Corbett to Fight.

London, March 22.—George Stevens, of the Bolingbroke club, offer a purse of $12,000 for a fight between Corbett and Mitchell in London. He also offers $500 to each man for training expenses.

Unseated Lands Sold.

The sale of unseated lands in Centre county was held at the Court House this morning by the County Commissioners. Quite a number of bidders were present. Most of the tracts went at the usual price of $1 per acre.

CONFERENCE IS OVER

The Appointments Conclude The Session's Work at Williamsport.

WILL MEET NEXT AT CLEARFIELD

Rev. J. W. Rue Returns to Bellefonte—List of Those Assigned to Charges in The Altoona District—The Conference a Complete Success.

Willinmsport, Pa., March 24.—This was the last day of the Twenty-eight annual session of the Central Pennsylvania Methodist Episcopal conference, and the preachers rushed through their business. It was 2:45 p. m. before Bishop Vincent started to read the appointments, and as soon as he had finisned there was a scramble for the trains. The plan for the Veteran Methodist Ministers Relief association was ordered to go into effect at once. The question of further extension or removal of the time limit was submitted to the annual and lay conferences. Resolutions were adopted denouncing the Armenian outrages, urging the dismemberment of the Turkish empire and praising Miss Clara Barton. The usual denounciation of the liquor traffic was made and the conference congratulated itself on having met in the only city in the state that has elected a Prohibition mayor. Clearfield was chosen as the next place of meeting. Mt. Carmel being the only competitor. The appointments are as follows.

How About this?

As the base ball season is near at hand the question arises "Is Bellefonte to have a base ball club this year?" Several years ago the Bellefonte team was the best in Cenrtal Pennsylvania. Under the carefu management J. M. Cunningham the team was almost always a vistorious one and time and again the other contesting clubs were downed by the Bellefonte club.

Why should not this be the case this this summer? Surely there are enough sportsmen in Bellefonte to support a good club. All it needs is some one to start the ball rolling and followers will soon be found. Is there one person in Bellefonte who has courage to make this start? Surely there should be. When one looks back to the many pleasant afternoons spent watching Bellefonte down visiting teams it is with much regret to think that a movement is not already on foot to have a first class team again for this city. If anything is to be done in this matter, now is the time to do it.

ANOTHER DOUBLE TRAGEDY.

A Mistress Fatally Shoots a Travelling Salesman at Lancaster.

Lancaster, Pa., March 22.—Henry Thompson, who was shot yesterday morning at the Keystone house here, by Miss Bertie MacConnell, with whom he was living as husband and wife, under the name of J. C. MacConnell and wife is still alive, although there are no hopes of his recovery. The physicians have located the ball sent into his forehead over the left the left eye into the brain, part of which has exuded from the wound. His right eye is terribly swollen, but it is believed the second shot the woman says she fired passed into the brain through the eye. Up to noon Thompson displayed wonderful vitality, but he then began sinking rapidly. He declared this morning that he did not know who shot him or when he was shot, and says he wished he did, for he would then tell. When told that he could not recover he said that he knew it, and only asked to be allowed to die in peace. He now lies at the house of his brother, George Thompson, in this city.

After the shooting Miss MacConnell calmly walked out of the room and took a train for Coatesville, the home of her parents. Arriving there, she quietly entered the house, and going up-stairs placed the revolver to her breast and fired, the ball passing through her lungs and lodging in her back. She then informed her parents, who immediately called in a physician. He located the ball, but expressed the opinion that the case was hopeless. Miss MacConnell passed a restless night, her mind apparently wandering at times. At one time she expressed the hope that Thompson was dead. She fired two shots she said, for fear one might not kill him. She declared Thompson had deceived her and blighted her life, and having nothing to live for, she made up her mind to kill herself. She wanted Thompson to die so he could not blight the lives of others.

Shot the Watchman.

Harrisburg, March 22.—Richard Simmers, a watchman in the employ of the Philadelphia and Reading railroad company, was shot in the eye by Antonio Deross, an Italian, to-night and may die. Deross and a companion had discharged [illegible] freely when Simmers protested. Deross is said to have premeditatedly fired at the watchman. He and his friend, Michael McGraw were placed in the Dauphin county jail.

Bishop Hoban Consecrated

Scranton, Pa., March 22.—The consecration of M. J. Hoban, D. D., as coadjutor bishop of the Scranton diocese, took place to-day. The consecration mass was by cardinal Satolli. Archbishop Ryan, of Philadelphia, also participatr in the ceremonies. Bishop Hosterman of Cleveland preached the sermon. Bishop Phelan, of Pittsburg and Bishop Mullen, of Erie were present.

Banker is not Dead.

Pittsburg, March 22.—A cablegram dated Paris, was received in this city today from Mr. Charron, the manager of George A. Banker, the American cyclist in which he denies the report sent out last night from Nice to the effect that Banker had died in that city of typhoid fever. Mr. Charron's cablegram also stated that while the cyclist had been very ill with the fever, he was now slightly better.

Rev. Robert W. Herbst Dead.

York, Pa., March 22.—Rev. Robert W. Herbst, pastor of the Bethany and Princess street mission churches, and one of the most successful pastors in the Moravian ministry, died here this evening of throat consumption.

Donned A New Dress.

The Tyrone Herald recently donned an entire new dress and now comes to us neater than ever. Editor Jones has been making things hum with his Herald and the high mark he has already reached is the best testimonial as to his ability not only as a journalist but as a shrewd manager. The Herald is always a welcome visitor to our sanctum We wish Editor Jones continued success and posperity in the future.

Plenty of Oil.

The monthly report of the various pipe lines transporting crude oil shows that the stocks of Pennsylvania oil above ground increased nearly 250,000 barrels in February, bringing the total 5,575,000 barrels the largest quantity for a year. The increase is due to the falling off in shipments, which dropped to an average of 77,231 barrels a day. The reciepts from the wells are less than in January, averageing little more than 85,000 barrels a day, the smallest since July.

DEATH OF WM. HAMILTON

An Aged Resident of This City Called To His Reward This Morning.

WILL BE BURIED AT HARRISBURG

Was a Well Known Citizen Having For Many Years Lived in Bellefonte—Studied Law at One Time in General Beaver's Office.

Once again the people of this community have been shocked by the unrelenting grasp of death; the grim destroyer of frail humanity this time carrying off one of the oldest and best known citizens of the town in the person of Mr. William Hamilton, who passed beyond this vale of tears at half-past six o'clock this morning. With the first gray streaks of dawning day, death stole in and claimed its victim and the spirit of him whose memory shall ever live was wafted to its eternal rest beyond the dark valley of death.

The announcement of Mr. Hamilton's death will be the cause of great sorrow throughout the entire community. There was hardly anybody in town who did not know him, and yet to each one he was always the same, a kind word and a pleasant smile until the last. Although his death causes pain, yet there is consolation in knowing that his days of suffering are over and what is our loss is his gain. Although he will no more be seen on our streets, yet his kind deeds will always stand up as a high testimonial as to his real worth.

William Hamilton was born at Harrisburg in 1824. His father's name was Hugh Hamilton, and was at one time state printer. He died a good many years ago, when William was quite young. His mother's maiden name was Miss Roxanna Boyd, who died some time ago at the ripe old age of 98. William studied law and was admitted to the bar at Harrisburg, where he stayed until the war broke out. He enlisted on September 3rd, 1862, in Co. D, 2nd Penn'a Reserves. William McCandless was Colonel of this regiment. It was formerly commanded by Col. Wm. B. Mann of Philadelphia and subsequently by Col. William McCandless, who was a distinguished soldier and who afterwards became Secretary of Internal Affairs of Pennsylvania. William Hamilton served all through the war and at the time of the discharge of the Penn'a Reserves, on the 31st of May, 1864, he was transferred to the 191st Regiment Penn'a Volunteers, in which he served until the close of the war. He was in almost continuous service in the Army of the Potomac.

His intelligence and clerical ability was such that soon after he enlisted he was transferred to Regimental Headquarters and was made a clerk in the Adjutant's office.

After his discharge from the army he came to Bellefonte and entered the law office of McCallister & Beaver as a clerk and continued to occupy this position with that firm and its successors until after Gen. J. A. Beaver went to Harrisburg as Governor of Pennsylvania in 1887. His growing infirmities seriously interfered with his using his pen and he could do but little in the office after that time. He lived in the family of H. N. McCallister, whose second wife was William Hamilton's sister. After the death of Mr. McCallister, he, with Gen. Beaver's family, moved to Harrisburg.

He had for several years been helpless and required the constant services of an attendant at his rooms in Crider's Block in Bellefonte. A gradual paralysis extending through several years slowly advanced, rendering him more and more helpless and which a few days ago extended to his throat preventing his taking any nourishment. He had been in a comatose condition since Friday last and quietly passed away at half-past six o'clock this morning. He was of a very genial disposition, fond of children, and interested in all our local affairs. He kept, for many years, a careful record of the temperature and weather and, in connection therewith, of the principal events that occurred in the town. It has already become very interesting historically, and if we had an historical society in Centre county, which we ought to have, it would be a very valuable contribution to the library.

Hon. A. Boyd Hamilton is the only brother left. He lives at Harrisburg and is in his 88th year. He is one of the best known citizens of Harrisburg and was at one time state printer, but of late years has been actively interested in the Dauphin County Historical Society, of which he was one of the founders.

John, the other brother, died a few months ago in Texas, in which state he had been making his home.

The remains will be taken to Harrisburg at 10.09 Thursday morning and interment will be made at that city.

PENNS VALLEY.

An Interesting Letter From our Hustling Correspondent in this Section.

Our old and highly esteemed friend, Andrew Reeseman, of Centre Hall, dealer in stoves, tinwares etc., made a flying visit to Bellefonte last week. Mr. Reeseman has been doing a good business of late.

Edward Ruhle will vacate his present quarters, the Old Fort Hotel, on the first of April and occupy the old established hotel stand in Centre Hall. Mr. Ruhle is a capital landlord, and the traveling community, especially the commercial agents are well aware of the fact, hence special encomiums are unnecessary.

A. S. Kerlin, produce dealer of Centre Hall, informed me a day or two since that his business was rather quiet along the line. Possibly its the calm which precedes the storm—quite a number are very anxiously waiting for their business storm. Unquestionably Mr. Kerlin handles more eggs than any other dealer in this valley.

I regret to say that Mrs. C. P. Long, of Spring Mills, has been quite ill for several weeks. At this writing there is little or no improvement in her condition.

Charles Steele, of the firm of Whitmer & Co., extensive lumber dealers of Sunbury, was in our valley last week looking after their large timber interests in this section.

The sleighing was short lived, while it lasted the sleigh bells jingled quite merrily. Of course the snow was taken advantage of by the gay and lively, and they made the most of it. Very little heavy sledding was engaged in.

Candidates have been very scarce of late, the recent severe cold weather has kept them pretty close to the registers and stoves. Of course at the first appearance of moderate weather they will be around again taking another survey of the political horizon, and endeavor to discover what "my" chances are for a nomination. In this valley some of the candidates are highly spoken of, and others are very roughly handled. Of course its too early yet to give any idea of the following of any of the candidates of either party. Besides apparently they are not all announced, but when the "crop" is all in, something like a satisfactory estimate of their respective strengths can then be ascertained. Politics are beginning to be discussed quite lively from county officer to presidential possibilities, evidently we'll have our hands full the coming fall.

Millheim.

Monday it snowed about six hours and there is very good sleighing again. The public sales will be better attended when the people have good sleighing.

The farmers in this vicinity took a day off last Saturday and came to town to do their neccessary business. The streets presented a very lively appearance for a while.

Mr. J. C. Morris spent last Sunday at his home. He always goes to Wolf's Store to spend his leisure time. The writer was informed that he will assist Prof. Maynard to teach the summer school.

Mrs. Ed. Royer was buried on Monday forenoon at 10 o'clock. Interment was made at Fairview cemetery.

Blinded by an Arc Light.

W. S. Harrington, chief electrician for Cox Bros., at Wilksbarre, was struck blind Wednesday while cleaning an arc light. The plant is at Roam Junction, and was started in operation for the first time that night. It is supposed that the wires were crossed, and, when Harrington touched the lamp, it formed a shor circit. The result was that a ball of fire darted at his head and the intense glare of the flame rendered him stone blind.

Fatal Quarters.

An exchange says: "It seems that the twenty-five cent piece is about the most unlucky thing a man can carry. On the American quarter dollar there are 13 stars 13 letters in the scroll held in the eagle's beak, 13 marginal feathers in each wing, 13 tail feathers, 13 horizontal bars, 13 arrow heads and 13 letters in the word 'quarter dollar.'" These twenty-five cent pieces, unlucky and coarse laden as they are, are gratefully received by newspaper men. The "devil" is our right hand man and we are not superstitious.

Her Choice.

Mother—Jane, you must choose between the two. Will you marry the man who loves you or the man who can dress you?

Daughter—Mamma, as an up to date girl, I must reply to your question that although love is a very desirable thing, clothes are absolute neccessity.—Loudon Tit-Bits.

A SHORT TALK ON MEDICINE

OF GREAT INTEREST TO WOMEN.

Pale Cheeks and Nerveless Hands are no Longer Admired. To be Strictly Correct you Must have Rosy Cheeks and Good Health.

Men Admire Wholesome-looking Women, and now Seek their Wives from that Class.

A FEW POINTERS FOR THE GIRL OF THE PERIOD.

Pure blood is the secret of health and beauty. The features may be regular, the form perfect, but no woman can be beautiful in the full sense of the word while suffering from any of the peculiar ailments of her sex. Disease destroys the complexion, is productive of wrinkles and premature old age. Regular monthly uterine action is necessary to every woman's health, and if this function of life is checked, disease, a pale and sallow complexion, and a feeling of exhaustion, are the result. The monthly secretion must continue from puberty to the turn of life without unnatural obstruction. Any breach of this law of Nature will result in the distressing symptoms which make the lives of seven-tenths of the women of this country miserable, almost unbearable. A few of these symptoms are severe headache, loss of appetite, pale and sallow complexion, palpitation of the heart, swollen ankles or legs, nervousness, offensive breath, etc., etc. The sufferer may exhibit one or more of these symptoms, or may have all. They simply indicate the ravages disease has made upon the system, and the more of the symptoms the patient shows the greater the necessity for prompt and persistent treatment, until they have been banished and the bloom of health is restored. To accomplish this end Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the only unfailing remedy. They positively cure all suppressions and irregularities, which if neglected, inevitably entail sickness and trouble. By taking these pills for a week or ten days before the expected return of each period, the prompt appearance of "the visitor" is insured. For suppressions, the pills must be taken steadily until the re-appearance takes place—generally in a month's time, sometimes less. Follow the directions on the pamphlet about each box. Nursing women will find their milk improved in quality and quantity by taking these pills, and also obtain relief from pain in the back and general dragged-out feeling. All displacements from weakness of the uterine ligaments are speedily relieved and ultimately cured by the use of these pills. Leucorrhœa, bearing down weight in the pelvis, and all female weakness, find speedy relief and cure in the administration of the Pink Pills for Pale People.

The most critical period in the life of a woman is that attending the cessation of menstruation, or, as it is most generally termed, the change or turn of life. The symptoms attending this period are fainting spells or attacks of faintness or dizziness, headache, general debility, exhaustion, a feeling of melancholy, hysteria, pain in loins or limbs, hypochondria, etc. The change is a gradual one—for better or worse—for the former if the patient is wise enough to fortify the system against the ravages of the symptoms attending the change. For this purpose no remedy ever discovered equals Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They purify the blood by acting directly upon the sexual system, lessen the severity of this critical period, and finally leave the patient in the enjoyment of robust health. All ladies approaching this critical period should take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

PALE AND SALLOW GIRLS.

What can be more distressing than to see a girl drooping and fading in the springtime of youth? Instead of bright eyes, glowing rosy cheeks, and an elastic step, there are dull eyes, pale, sallow, or greenish complexion and a languidness of step that bespeaks disease and an early death if proper treatment is not promptly resorted to and persisted in until the impoverished blood is enriched, and the functions of life becomes regular. Upon parents rests a great responsibility at the time their daughters are budding into womanhood. If your daughter is pale, complains of weakness, is "tired out" upon the slightest exertion; if she is troubled with headache or backache, pain in the side; if her temper is fitful and her appetite poor, she is in a condition of extreme peril, a fit subject for the development of that most dreadful of all diseases—consumption. If you notice any of these symptoms lose no time in procuring Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They will assist the patient to develop properly and regularly; they will enrich the blood and restore health's roses to the cheeks, bright eyes and a lightness of step will surely follow their use, and all danger of consumption and premature death will be averted. Wise and prudent mothers will insist upon their daughters taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills upon the approach of the period of puberty, and thus avoid all chances of disease or early decay.

DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS FOR MEN—YOUNG AND OLD.

Every man who finds his mental faculties dull or failing, or his physical powers flagging, whether from overwork or worry, or as the result of early indiscretions, or excesses, should promptly take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They will restore his lost energies, both physical and mental, build up the blood, restore the shattered nervous system, and ward off insanity, the too frequent outcome of excesses.

PARALYSIS

Follows Bloodlessness and Nervous Prostration.

From the Press, New York City.

For more than fifteen years, Mrs. A. Mather, who lives at No. 43 East One-hundred-and-twelfth Street, New York, was a sufferer from anæmia, which, in spite of the treatment of physicians, gradually developed into nervous prostration until finally marked symptoms of paralysis set in. Mrs. Mather gladly gave the reporter her experience:

"For many years," Mrs. Mather said, "I was a constant sufferer from nervousness. It was about fifteen years ago that my condition began to grow worse. Soon I became so affected that I was prostrated and, until about two years ago, was part of the time unable to leave my bed. My blood became greatly impoverished and after years of suffering I was threatened with paralysis.

"When I walked I could scarcely drag my feet along and at times my knees would give away so that I would almost fall down. Feeling that doctors could not help me, I had little hope of recovery, until one day I read in a newspaper how a person, afflicted almost the same as I was, had been cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I purchased a box and began taking the pills. The effect of this first box pleased me so much that I bought another. Before I had taken all the pills in the first box I began to experience relief and, after the third box had been used, I had been practically cured. It was really surprising what a speedy and pronounced effect the medicine had upon me.

"I always keep Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the house now, and when I feel any symptoms of nervousness find that they give me certain relief."

These Pills are manufactured by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y., and are sold only in boxes bearing the firm's trade mark and wrapper, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, and are never sold in bulk. They may be had of all druggists or direct by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company.

Magnificent Ovation to Cardinal Satolli.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., March 20.—His eminence, Cardinal Francis Satolli, who is expected to arrive here from Philadelphia to-morrow night, will be the reception of one of the most magnificent ovations ever given to any one in this city. He goes from here to Scranton to consecrate the Right Rev. Father Hodan, of Ashley, as bishop of Alalis and coadjutor of Scranton. The ceremonies will take place on Sunday morning.

Shot His Wife, Killed Himself.

Scranton, Pa., March 20.—At Forest City, six miles north of Carbondale, this morning, Frank Creagle went to the house where his wife from whom he had been separated, was staying. When Mrs. Creagle refused to return to him Creagle fired four times with a revolver, one of the bullets going completely through the woman's body. Creagle then shot and killed himself. Mrs. Creagle is in a serious condition.

The Roof Leaks.

Harrisburg, Pa., March 20.—The flimsy manner in which the new administration building is constructed was apparent this morning, when the snow on the roof melted and soaked through the ceiling of Secretary Reeder's private room, destroying the handsome frescoing and almost ruining the new carpets. It is a wonder that the building doesn't fall of its own weight. In the state department a nail driven into the walls falls out if the least weight is hung upon it.

A Wreck at Williamsport.

Williamsport, Pa., March 20.—At 2 o'clock this morning a Pennsylvania east bound freight train was derailed in South Williamsport and the locomotive and nine cars were wrecked. The switch lock had been broken open and the track set to throw the train on a short siding. The engineer and fireman saved themselves by jumping. J. A. Howard, a tramp, is under arrest on suspicion.

out in the rain

A good drenching in a cold rain is often the beginning of consumption. Yet no one claims that the germs of this disease existed in the rainwater. Then how was this brought about? The exposure was followed by a cold; the vitality was lowered; the cough continued for some weeks; the throat and lungs became congested; and thus all the conditions were favorable for the growth of the consumption germs.

Scott's Emulsion

of Cod-liver Oil, with hypophosphites, does not directly attack these germs and kill them. But it does tone up the whole system and restores the body to health before serious harm is done. The germs of consumption thrive best when the system is weakened and the throat and lungs congested. Do not delay until it is too late, but treat your cough early. Scott's Emulsion is one of the very best remedies.

THE STATE CHAIRMANSHIP.

Senator Quay May Compromise by Favoring Deputy Attorney General Elkin.

Philadelphia, March 18.—The Republican state Chairmanship fight took on a phase to-day. It is said that Senator Quay has become worried over the bitterness of the fight that is developing for the office between some of his closest and ablest lieutenants, and that sooner than see such bad feelings engendered among his followers, he will retain the position himself for the time being. His course in this matter may be largely shaped by events within the next few weeks, but if he should decide that the fight was getting too hot, he will retain the position until the St. Louis convention shapes his course. The general opinion among well informed politicians here to-day is favorable to the belief that neither Andrews or Leach will be favored by Quay for the chairmanship, but that a comparison will be effected in the person of Deputy Attorney General John P. Elkin, of Indiana county.

The Fight for the Chairmanship.

Changed Their Route.

Jeannette, Pa., March 18.—The Greensburg, Jeannette and Pittsburg Electric Railway Company is being badly hampered in its extension west from here to Irwin. The injunction case was set for hearing to-day and the Pennsylvania Company got a postponement for one week. Besides this the company to-day announced that the route going into Irwin will be changed. This is made necessary by the refusal of the Westmoreland Coal Company to allow the company the right of way through its lands. The new route will be up the valley from east of Manor to the pike into Irwin. This is a sad blow to these places, and the people there are bitter in their condemnation of the coal company.

'Twill Be Fine.

The Select Easter Ball to be given by the Undine Fire Company on Monday evening April 6th, promises to be a complete success in every particular. The Ball is to be select, with the emphasis on the select. No undesirable characters will be admitted under any circumstances. The committee having the dance in charge are sparing no expense or pains to have everything done up in first class style and the indications are that this Ball will be the finest ever held. When the boys come around to sell you a ticket be sure and buy not only one, but two or three. You can well afford to do this. The Undines may save many times that amount of property for you sometime and they will do it much more willingly if they know you have been friendly to them at different occasions such as this one—their Easter Ball. Don't forget the date and place. It is on Monday evening April 6th at Bush's Arcade.

Death at Howard.

Conrad Long, of Howard, died at his home at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening. The deceased was aged about 73 years and leaves a wife and seven children to mourn his death. Four brothers and three sisters are also left to mourn the loss of a brother who had all his life been a helpmate on all occasions. The deceased was a member of the Dunkard church and was a christian in every sense of the word. A faithful church member he, at all times, tried to do just what he thought was right in the sight of the Almighty. He was a devout christian up to the time of his death and although his demise caused great sorrow, yet there was consolation in knowing that only a grand reward awaited him in the great beyond.

The funeral was held on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

Wanamaker Fined $1,000.

Philadelphia, March 18.—In the United States District Court, before Judge Butler, ex-Postmaster John Wanamaker was recently convicted of violating a federal law by importing foreign labor, and was fined 1,000. Mr. Wanamaker had brought a salesman from Europe.

His Curiosity Satisfied.

Will Meet Next in Pittsburg.

Harrisburg, March 19.—The Superior Court adjourned this morning to meet at Pittsburg May 6.

"Once Upon a Time."

The Saturday Evening Post would not have thought of given a splendid picture in connection with a three months' trial subscription, but we are so much pleased with the beautiful 17x24 inch oleograph in 12 colors—"Once upon a time"—and we are so sure that new subscribers who take The Post for three months will continue with us, that we have concluded to offer the above picture and the Saturday Evening Post for that time for only 50 cents—not only one-half the value of the picture itself.

"Once Upon a Time" is 17x24 inches in size finely executed in colors, and shows a lovely boy and girl in antique dress at a window in an old fashioned room, telling fairy tales. It is a beautiful work of art and will be an ornament to any parlor or sitting room.

The Standard Saturday Evening Post, of Philadelphia, is the oldest family and literary paper in America, if not in the world. Originally established by Benjamin Franklin in 1728, and appeared in its present character of 167 years! Besides being the oldest family paper it claims the even more honorable title of also being the best. It has always kept in sight the best literature. Its pages are perfectly free from the degrading and polluting trash which characterizes many socalled literary and family papers. It gives more for the money, and of a better class, than any other publication in the world. To the people everywhere it will prove the best, most instructive, reliable, and moral paper that ever entered their homes.

Terms, $2.00 a year in advance.

SPECIAL TO NEW SUBSCRIBERS.

We want 50,000 new subscribers the coming year, and in order to introduce The Post into families where it is not now taken, we will send the paper every week for three months for 50 cents, and in addition we will send, all postage paid a copy of the beautiful picture, "Once Upon a Time."

This offer will remain open but a short time, and those who want to secure it had better send at once. Address, —While the inauguration of the Tennessee Centennial Exposition will take place on June 1, of this year, because on that day one hundred years ago Tennessee was admitted to the Union, the Exposition will really open on May 1, 1897, and continue six months, to November 1. It was at first intended that the Centennial should begin on September 1, of this year, and run through the autumn only, but the enterprise grew to such proportions that it became manifest that it could not be completed by that time, and that it would be far better to keep the gates open six months instead of three. The construction of the exposition has been going on eight months since the grading of the park began, and to-day the park looks like a gigantic work-shop in which six huge edifices are being built. The reproduction of the Partheon, which with its fifty-eight graceful columns, will be the centerpiece and home for the fine arts, is up to the roof line. The brick walls of the cellar are finished and the skeletons for the staff columns are in place. The workmen on the auditorium have begun the erection of the tower, which will be 140 feet high. The placing of the colonial gables on the Machinery building has begun, and the supporting timbers of the great six hundred foot Commerce building are up.

Clearfield Men Combine.

Philadelphia, March 18.—The bituminous coal operators of the Clearfield region to-day made a district organization, to regulate the local trade. John Lloyd, of Altoona, was elected president. All of the Clearfield operators are identified.

The following prices will be put in effect April 1: $2.35 per ton for Cumberland, Pocohontas and New River coal, free on board at Philadelphia, Baltimore, Newport and Norfolk, with a differential of 15 cents a ton in favor of Clearfield and Beech Creek coal.

A Record-Breaking Train.

Wilmington, Del., March 18.—A remarkable run was made on the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore railroad yesterday. The 35 miles between Baltimore and Havre de Grace were covered in 33 minutes and the run from Ferryville to Gray's Ferry, 56½ miles in 53 minutes, including a stop at Wilmington. The time for the entire distance, 92½ miles, was 88 minutes.

Fast Living Americans.

We new world people are fast livers, and in nothing is this more observable than in our reckless irregularity as to sleep and diet. We alternately starve gorge ourselves doing each in the most irregular and hasty manner, without regard to the nutritive value of the food consumed, or the deleterious effects upon the digestive organs or the terrible tasks imposed upon them at the most unseasonable hours. It is little wonder we are a nation of dyspeptics, and prone to constipation, piles, etc. It is to their efficacy as a remedy for those ailments that Dr. Pierces Pleasant Pellets owe their unparalleled popularity. Good results always follow their use in all cases of derangement of the liver, stomach and bowels.

Arsenic In the Coffee

The family of John Miller of North Wilkesbarre were poisoned on Wednesday by drinking coffee in which arsenic had been introduced. The mother father and four children were violently attacked this morning after breakfast, but they all rallied except one little girl who is not yet out of danger. There is said to be a clue to the perperator. A chemist stated that there was sufficient poison in the coffee pot to kill thirty persons. The large quantity acted as an antidote.

DON'T STOP TOBACCO.

How to Cure Yourself While Using it.

The tobacco habit grows on a man until his nervous system is seriously affected, impairing health, comfort and happiness. To quit suddenly is too severe a shock to the system, as tobacco to an inveterate user becomes a stimulant that his system continually craves. "Baco-Cure" is a scientific cure for tobacco habit in all its forms, carefully compounded after the formula of an eminent Berlin physician who has used it in his practice since 1872, without a failure. It is purely vegetable and guaranteed perfectly harmless. You can use all the tobacco you want while taking "Baco-Cure." It will notify you when to stop. We give a written guarantee to cure permanently any case with three boxes, or refund the money with 10 per cent, interest. "Baco-Cure" is not a substitute, but a scientific cure, that cures without the aid of will power and with no inconvenience. It leaves the system as pure and free from nicotine as the day you took your first chew or smoke.

Cured by Baco-Cure and Gained Fifty Pounds.

From hundreds of testimonials, the originals of whice are on the file and open to inspection the following is presented.

Clayton, Nevada Co., Ark., Jan. 28, 1895.

Eureka Chemical & Mfg., Co., La Crosse Wis.—Gentlemen: For forty years I used tobacco in all its forms. For twenty-five years of that time I was a great sufferer from general debility and heart disease. For fifteen years I tried to quit, but couldn't. I took various remedies, among others "No-To-Bac," "The Indian Tobacco Antidote," "Double Chloride of Gold," etc., etc., but none of them did me the least bit of good. Finaly, however, I purchased a box of your "Baco-Cure" and it has entirely cured me of the nabit in all its forms, and I have increased thirty pounds in weight and am relieved from all the numerous aches and pains of the body and mind. I could write a quire of paper upon my changed feelings and condition.

Yours respectfully, P. H. MARBURY.

Died of Blood Poisoning.

The youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Orndorf, of near Woodward, died on Sunday last, of blood poisoning, after being ill but a few day. On Thursday last a small swelling started on his lower lip, much resembling a pimple. This increased in size until his head, face and neck were terribleipswollen. He suffered excruiating pain, and little could be done to relieve him. On Sunday morning death took place. He was aged about twenty years, and was a very popular young man.—Centre Hall Reporter.

—"Break not the Sabbath day" is a motto that would benefit many Bellefonters if they would only keep it in mind.

Arrested on Friday.

John E. Mullen an eighteen year old youth residing near Coburn, was this morning arrested by constable P. P. Leitzel and brought to Bellefonte and lodged in jail charged with carrying concealed weapons and threatening the life of a man named Lingle, who also lives near Coburn.

It seems that some time ago Mullen was at Lingle's house apparently to see Mr. Lingle, but in reality to see Lingle's wife. The husband was at home at the time and after the three had been sitting in the room chatting with one another, Lingle suggested to Mullen that they take a walk some place. Mullen replied that he was going to stay until he got warm and so Lingle left the house by himself. His suspicians were, however, aroused by the queer actions of Mullen and in a short time he quietly returned to the house. He found Mullen and his wife in a compromising situation and naturally kicked up a row. Mullen threatened his life and consequently Lingle had him arrested.

Mullen was connected with the auman robbery about a year ago and as a result was an inmate of Fort Condo for some time.

Better Feeling in the Iron Market

Pittsburg, March 19.—The American Manufacturer, in its edition to-morrow, will say concerning the iron and steel trade: There may be a somewhat better feeling in the iron and steel market this week, but that is about all the improvement that can be noted. In some few lines the volume of business is larger and there is more doing, but figures show no material change. The pig iron market remains about as it was at last report, with no material change in prices, and the aggregate of business about as it was. In the finished lines the situation remains about as it was at the last reports. Bessemer steel shows nothing new, but there are more signs of a revival than there were at last reports. Consumers in all lines are holding back, some looking for lower prices, and the majority waiting to see more of the general situation.

Embezzler Osman Arrested at Hazleton.

Hazleton, Pa., March 19.—Charles Osman, of this city, was locked up last night charged with embezzlement and larceny. The prosecutor is T. J. Sifton, representing the Pennsylvania Building and Loan association, of Altoona, for which Osman was the agent in this district. The discrepancy of $400 in his accounts was due to fast company and gambling. The investigation was started by several persons wishing to withdraw their money and submitting their books, which did not correspond with the returns made by Osman. The charge of larceny was preferred on account of the disappearance of office furniture.

Quay is Chairman.

Washington, D. C., March 19.—Senator Quay was asked to-day if he had pledged his support to Mr. Leach for chairman of the Republican State Committee of Pennsylvania.

"I have not," was the response.

"Are you pledged to Mr. Andrews?"

"I am not. I am still the chairman. I have not resigned and have never said that I intended to resign. I do not think this chairmanship question ought to be thrust into the canvass."

The concise reply to the questions indicated that Senator Quay has not given his personal encouragement to any candidate for the office of state chairman, and that he does not contemplate doing so at present.

Dr. M. Salm Brings Suit to Recover for Detention of Baggage.

An interesting hearing was held at Squire Keichline's office this morning Dr. M. Salm, a travelling specilist who has been visiting Bellefonte for the past six years brought suit against the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to recover for detaining his baggage on Nov. 30. 1892. His damage he estimated to be about $225.

It seems that Dr. salm has a regular day for visiting Bellefonte and advertises this one day, according to his story he has a large country practice and as he could do nothing without his baggage he consequently sought to recover for the loss he had sustained by losing several days. His baggage was checked at Johnstown on Nov. 29th and should have reached here on the 30th but it was several days before the Dr. saw it again.

Squire Keichline bound the case over for court.

Dr. Salm has another suit of the same nature which he intends instituting. The same trouble happened with his baggage two weeks ago. This time his trunks arrived on Saturday evening but were of no use to him that day as all his patients had come and gone by that time.

Must Use the Kkife

Said the Sugeon, But Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy Was Taken and The Knife Avoided.

The Union and Advertiser of Rochester ., recently published the following interesting account of how William W. Adams of 127 South avenue, that city was saved from a painful operation by the use of Dr David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy.

Mr. Adams said: "Three years ago I was taken with kidney disease very badly; at times I was completely prostrated; in fact was so bad that the day was set for the doctors to perform an operation upon me. But I decided I would not submit. I had been put in hot water baths, and, in fact nearly every means was tried to help me. Upon the day set for the operation I commenced the use of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, and from that moment began to gain, and it was not long before I was entirely cured and have had no return of the trouble since. My weight has increased and I never was so well as I am now. I have recommened to many people. for it saved my life."

In speaking to Mrs. Adams, she said; "About a year ago I was in a very feeble state of health, being completely run down. I had doctored considerably, but without permanent relief. One day one of my neighbors advised me to take Dr. David Kennedy s Favorite Remedy, which I did. My trouble was dyspepsia, and for a long while I was unable to be aboutat all but after taking a few doses I was completely cured, and now enjoy good health.

Hundreds of men and women with that "run down" condition, unable to work, have recovered health and strength through this remarkable remedy. It purifies the blood, stirs the liver and kidneys to a healthy action. In cases of rheumatism kidney, liver and urinary troubles, it is a wellknown specific.

In Cupid's Realm.

Lock Haven Democrat: Wednesday evening at the residence of the brides' uncle, H. C. Shaffer, Bellefonte avenue, Miss Emma F. Saserman became the wife of Boyd R. Cummings. While Miss Anna Mills played the Lohengrin wedding march in her usually acceptable style the bridal party presented themselves in the parlor in the presence of a large company of invited guests, when Rev. C. B. Gruver performed the ring ceremony. The bridesmaid was Miss Clara Winslow and A. G. Mader was the best man. The bride was attired in a neat traveling suit of beautiful mixed goods and made an elegant appearance. Both the bride and bridesmaid carried branches of white roses. The parlors were tastefully decorated. After congratulations were tendered a wedding supper was served. The bride's presents were numerous. many of them coming from friends who have long known the young lady, she for several years having been an esteemed saleslady in William Keiner's store. Mr. Cumming has been for years identified with Ed. Hecht's clothing store, and as a salesman formed many acquaintances who heartily congratulate him. The bride is the sister of Mr. Frank Sauserman of this place. She has many friends in Bellefonte who will certainly wish her much happiness in her new departure in life.

We advise any one wishing a cure to address Prof. W. H. PEEKE, F. D., 4 Cedar St., New York

Dropped Dead.

"Editor H. S. Taylor" in the Centre Democrat this week, administered such a stinging rebuke to the editor of the DAILY NEWS that owing to the suddenness (?) of the plan the said editor dropped dead, not however, before he was able to extend a letter of forgiveness to the Democrat for its cruel treatment of the said editor. If nothing happens, the funeral will take place to-morrow to the tune of a rehash of the Democrat's rebuke which will appear in this week's Gazette. The thanks of the world are due to H.S. Taylor the originator of the rebuke for his efforts in clearing the Woodward people of their every sin.

Parkersburg, W. Va., March 16—Seven merchants in Ohio, Pennsylvania an West Virginia have sued Internal Revenue Collector Gilkeson in the United States court in this city for $2000 damages each. and it is alleged over 50 other suits will be brought. The suits grew out of the seizure of oleomargarine in the possession of Stolly & Bros., of Wheeling, and the enforcements of the payment of the goverment tax and penalty on 60 other merchant of the three States.

Senator Quay's Land Donation.

Senator Quay has donated eight acres of land on the brow of the hill north of and overlooking Beaver to the Masonic University board. On this piece of ground the observatory will be erected. Fifty acres additional, in the same locality, have been purchased by the board, the members of which are busily engaged in the examination of plans for the various buildings to be erected, on which work will be commenced with the opening of spring. The board has $1,000.000 subscribed toward the University project.

Will Sail Saturday.

London, March 19.—Commissioner Booth-Tucker, who has been appointed to the command of the Salvation Army in the United States, and his wife, will sail for New York on Saturday. Upon their arrival it is expected that they will make every possible effort to win back Ballington Booth and wife, whose work is threatening to disrupt the old army.

Wife vs Horse.

Husbands give to your wives at least as much consideration as you would a pet animal. You would not knowingly work a favorite horse while sick. Yet, how many feeble, debilitated wives work on, drag out weary lives, made miserable by the many diseases peculiar to women. They suffer in silence and because delicacy prevents complaint you underestimate the disease and its effect in shortening her life. Get her Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. We assure you that no sufferer from those painful and weakening female diseases, which wreck the constitutions of so many women, can take it without being benefited. The greatest restorative tonic and strengthening nervine known to medical science. Produces refreshing sleep and drives melancholy away. Prevents threatened insanity, and cures sleeplessness, nervous debility, spasms, St. Vitus's Dance, and kindred nervous diseases.

Refinery for Butler.

Butler Pa., March 20.—Representatives of the Pennsylvania Oil Refining Company of Philadelphia where in town this week looking for a place to locate a refinery. A conference was held with some of the prominent producers and the plans of the company were fully discussed. It is proposed to erect a refinery having a capacity of 20,000 barrels per month, and no bond is asked, the company desires a certain portion of the stock to be held herewith local representation in the directory A suitable site has been secured a short distance out the West Penn and the preliminaries partially arranged and before stock is taken a committee of local capitalists will visit Philadelphia and investigate the business of the company, which is said to be that of furnishing Philadelphians with oil from wagons. If the business is such as is represented those interested will at once solicit subscriptions to the capital stock and the work of constructing the plant will proceed.

Danger Signals

More than half the victims of consumption do not know they have it. Here is a list of symptoms by which consumption can certainly be detected:—

Cough, one or two slight efforts on rising occurring during the day and frequently during the night.
Short breathing after exertion.
Tightness of the chest.
Quick pulse, especially noticeable in the evening and after a full meal.
Chilliness in the evening, followed by Slight fever.
Perspiration toward morning and Pale face and languid in the morning
Loss of vitality.

If you have these symptoms, or any of them, do not delay. There are many preparations which claim to be cures, but Dr. Acker's English Remedy for Consumption has the highest endorsements, and has stood the test of years. It will arrest consumption in its earlier stages, and drive away the symptoms named. It is manufactured by the Acker Medicine Co., 16 and 18 Chambers St., New York, and sold by all reputable druggists.

What There Is in a Ton of Coal.

From one ton of ordinary gas coal may be produced 1,500 pounds of coke, 20 gallons of ammonia water and 140 pounds of coal tar. By destructive distillation the coal tar will yield 69.6 pounds of pitch, 17 pounds of creasote, 14 pounds of heavy oils, 9.5 pounds of naphthaline, 4.75 pounds naphthol, 2.25 pounds alazarine, 2.4 pounds solvent naphtha, 1 5 pounds phenol, 1.2 pounds aurine, 1.1 pounds benzine, 1.1 pounds anoline, 0.77 of a pound toludine, 0.46 of a pound anthracine, and 0.9 of a pound tuluine. From the latter is obtained the new substance known as saccharine, which is 230 times as sweet as the best cane sugar, one part of it giving a very sweet taste to a thousand parts of water.

10,000,000 Packets of Seeds.

The secretary of agriculture, in accordance with the mandates of congress, has presented a circular letter to be sent immediately to all known reptuable growers of and dealers in seed throughout the United States, asking them to furhish at reasonable prices of the department ten million packets of garden, field and flower seeds, beginning with aspargus and ending with wheat. This number of packets will be given to each member and delegate in the house of represenatives and to each United States senator 15,000 packets for distributed among his constituents, after deducting with law, for distributionby the secretary of agriculture. The seed must be delivered on or before thirty days from the 17th of March.

A Good Demand Expected.

The Brockwayville Record says: "Lumbermen in this section are looking for a good demand for lumber this season, even if the prices do not advance materially. Some of the dealers, who are acquainted with the markets, say that indications point to considerable activity in what they term "small building" in the smaller cities and towns. This class of building is entirely of wood, and consequently consumes more lumber. Last season, building operations which drew heaviest on lumber from this section was the construction of large blocks in the cities which required special grades of lumber. Some dealers fancy they discern a movement toward better prices for hemlock in the near future."

Impure Candies Must Go.

Secretary of Agriculture Edge will institute a warfare against some of the cheaper forms of candy in the market. In many cases it is proven that terra al a or white earth is used to give weight and bulk to this class of goods and to decrease the cost. This material is not poisonous, yet its use is not only probably injurious to health but is also in violation of the pure food laws of the state. It is proposed by Secretary Edge to institute proceedings against those who ground the earth or stone provided the sale for and use in articles of food can be clearly proven

—"I had a bad cold which developed into grip. Physicians gave me no relief, and I finally tried Dr. Wood's Norway Syrup. One bottle cured me completely. It is a wonderful medicine." Jacob Haamies, Lyon Station, Pa.

—Editor Harter should now announce himself as a candidate for high constable, weather prophet or something of that calibre in Haine's Township Surely he is entitled to it. for has he not already endeared himself to a few Woodward democrats whose favor he has been zealously courting for the past two weeks?

COLD IN HEAD

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, MARCH 23, 1896.

A day spent with republican senators and representatives, trying to ascertain which of the presidental candidates is the ranking favorite in Congress, has convinced me that the average man, in or out of Congress, always sees future political events as he hopes they will be. The McKinley men will not admit that any other candidate for the nomination is really in the race. Many of them claim his nomination on the first ballot, and nearly all of them not later than the third. The Reed men are quite as confident that the speaker is bound to win. The Allison men claim that they will hold the balance of power and that after there has been a sufficient number of ballots taken to show that neither McKinley nor Reed can win that Allison will be nominated with a hurrah. The Morton men and the Quay men are not saying much, except that they are playing a waiting game and expect to win, while the Cullom men, the Manderson men and the friends of several other candidates say just wait; this is going to be a dark horse campaign, and our man's chances are as good as those of anybody else.

Those Cuban resolutions have now been before Congress for four weeks, and while it is expected that they will be disposed of this week, there is nothing certain about it. If Senator Morgan's joint resolution for the recognition of the belligerency of the Cubans had come to the Senate through the committee on foreign relations, it might be adopted, but the Senate very seldom ignores its committee reports. Therefore it may be set down as certain that the end of the matter whenever it comes will be the adoption of the committee report, in favor of accepting the house resolutions as a substitute for those orignally adopted by the Senate.

If Secretary Lamont intends to remain in politics for the purpose of becoming a democratic candidate for Governor of New York, as many believe, he made a great mistake when he wrote that letter attacking Gen. Nelson A. Miles, by imputation, if not directly in order to prevent Congress passing the bill providing for a revival of the grade of Lieutenant-General of the Army for Gen. Miles. Already it must have become manifest to Secretary Lamont that he has stirred up a regular hornet's nest. Gen. Miles has many friends, especially among the old soldiers, and they have already began to take steps towards beading off any political aspirations Secretary Lamont may have.

Nearly all the answers received to the circular letter sent out by the house ways and means committee to importers and manufacturers interested in the export trade strongly favor a renewal of the reciprocity treaties abrogated by the democratic tariff bill passed by the last Congress. This week the committee will devote to verbal hearings on the subject. It is almost certain that the result will be a bill providing for a renewal of the reciprocity treaties, but there is not much probability that such a bill will become a law until after a republican president takes his seat.

From London Congress gets undoubtedly authenic information that Secretary Olney and Lord Salisbury have resumed the Venezuelan negotiations just where they were brought up to the Monroe doctrine communication, but at the state department in Washington, neither congressmen or newspaper men can get a word about what is being done. It may have occurred before, but your correspondent does not remember to have heard what our state department was doing in important international matters for the first time by way of European cables until the Cleveland administration came in with its mysterious policy and dark lantern methods of conducting public business. It has been the rule during the the last three years to find out what our government was doing through the published utterances of officials in foreign capitals.

Those who have anything to say either for or against the Nicaragua canal will be given a chance to be heard before the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce decides what sort of a report shall be made. These hearings will begin this week.

Secretary Carlisle hasn't made any friends by his letter to the senate committee on public buildings and grounds, opposing the joint resolution providing for the erection of a bronze statue of Gen. Spinner, formerly U. S. Treasurer, on one of the approaches or butresses of the treasury building. And he wasn't satisfied with opposing the resolution as it now is but added that there was no place for the statue in the grounds attached to the treasury building. Gen. Spinner was a popular official, and the money to pay for this statue was raised by popular subscriptions. But he was also a republican.

ANOTHER MINE HORROR.

Explosion in Adrian Mine—Two Dead and Many May Yet Be in the Place.

Punxsutawney, Pa., March 23.—The gas in mine No. 1 Adrian, operated by the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg Coal and Iron Company, exploded last night nd the mine is on fire. It is impossible to get into the mine any distance, although the explosion occured two miles back. Shortly after 12 o'clock last night the fire boss heard an explosion and this morning the men going in to work were overcome. Some escaped and the alarm was given. When Edward Robinson, superintendant with a crew went to the rescue the men they were overcome. Three escaping miners found Robinson, lying in a pool of water and dragged him as far as possible, and, to save themselves, they dropped him, making their escape. His brother, General Manager L. W. Robinson, then went in with a crew and brought him out unconscious, finding him ane and one half miles in. He has recovered. Eleven men have been brought out, with two dead. The dead are Isaac Jones, married, with three children: Joe Lawrence, widower, with eleven children. Both these men were rescuers. How many more there may be in the mine cannot be stated. It is supposed some miners went in last night to work and ignited the gas. Much excitement prevails about the mines, but nothing definite will be known until this morning.

SOME MORE WAR.

Or Rather, Some More Results of the War.

It is no wonder that "our boys" brought home many legacies they would much better have left behind them in the swamps of Dixie. Seven out of ten veterans living to-day are suffering from weak kidneys. This is largely the result of exposure. Long, cold marches, alternated with hot days and their effects are well remembered by the boys in blue, and these effects have stuck to many. One reason of so much of this is that the boys were so glad to get home that their joy made them blind to any physical wrong, and so the first few months after the war the boys were enthusiastic, while the seeds of any complaint they may have brought back were at work secretly, but surely, laying the foundation of chronic disease. The medical statistics of the war show a large amount of kidney troubles, and the whole South is strewn with graves of its victims. Specifics for the kidneys were not known then, and the field hospitals no place for such cases. Every city today has its veteran victims.

Mr. J. J. Miller, of 45 Church street, Wilkesbarre, is a veteran, and tells his experience. Said he: "I have suffered or over 30 years from my kidneys. Exposure during the war added to my complaint until it became a confirmed disease. As for remedies recommended and prescribed by physicians, I have used too many to mention. Doctors have had my back thoroughly blistered, and tortured me in many ways without any relief at all. I used to get up as often as twelve times in a night to pass urine, and it was a high red color, containing heavy sediment. The urine burned in passage. I could not bend or stoop, and it hurt me to turn over in bed. I had stinging pain in the back and most severe headaches. I got some of Doan's Kidney Pills at Trick's drug store and began taking them. They helped me the second day of use and I went "at them for keeps." I found I had a genuine kidney cure. I took nearly three boxes and I feel like a young man I am as good in my back as a new born child, and thank God I am cured I test my back every day and it is all right. No, sir; I would not be without Doan's Kidney Pills if I had to go one hundred miles for them and pay $10.00 a box I recommend them everywhere and am always afraid people won't test them thoroughly, and I always tell them to take at least three boxes. Positively, too much praise cannot be credited to Doan's Kidney Pills.

Doan's Kidney Pills for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Armenia's Appeal to America.

Every American citizen who prizes his own birthright of liberty, and whom the material fatness of life has not made dead to the nobler, generous emotions which stir one to practical sympathy for the smitten thousands in Turkish Armenia, should act wisely, promptly, vigorously for their relief. In view of recent political events the New York Outlook well, though bitterly, says:

"If some of the superfluous indignation over wrongs not yet inflicted on the Venezuelans were directed toward the Kurds' ruthless massacreing the Armenians; if some of the praiseworthy determination to protect American interests not yet assailed in South America, were directed to protect American philanthropists in peril of their lives in Turkey, more efficient protection would be afforded than has been. Where there is a will there is a way America is fierce when it should be patient and forbearing where it should be fierce."

The Outlook continues: "The President, by a message, and Congress, by joint resolutions, can express the universal sympathy of Americans for the massacred Armenians, and protest in the name of humanity against the indifference and inefficiency of the Turkish government. England is responsible for the maintainance of that government. Half the English people are indignant that the English government does nothing. We can officially, by Congressional resolutions, declare our sympathy with that portion of the English people and our sense that it is England's duty to act."

Very often Nature needs only a little help to get over an obstruction. When a boom of logs is floating down a river, all goes well until one single log strikes something and sticks. Then there's a "jam"—and trouble. It is just so in the progress of food through the digestive organs. Everything goes well till something sticks. Then the process of digestion stops. That's indigestion. Unless the impediment is removed, poisonous putrid matter begins to accumulate. There's a "jam"—constipation, and trouble. Sick headache, biliousness, sleeplessness, vertigo, heartburn, loss of appetite—these are some of the symptoms. Just a little help at the appearance of the first one would end the trouble. Nature is a hard worker, but she needs assistance if too much be put upon her.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets offer the best and simplest method for furnishing this assistance. They are very effective in their action, prompt and are not strong nor severe in action, but they no violent wrench of the system. They loosen it. Nature does the rest. By and by, with a little care in dieting, Nature will do it alone. That's one great advantage of these "Pleasant Pellets" over the many strongly cathartic pills—you do not become a slave to their use. They really cure the trouble they are meant to cure. Even the worst kind of chronic constipation disappears with their use.

CAUTION.—Some designing dealers do not permit their customers to have Dr. Pierce's Pellets because inferior pills afford greater profits. Such dealers are short sighted. They overlook the fact that next time you will go where you are supplied with what you ask for.

A Hint to Bellefonters.

Bellefonte has a Board of Trade, but to an outsider one would hardly know it. Johnstown has a Board of Trade and everybody knows about it.

The following dispatch under date of March 16 should serve as a pointer for Bellefonters. A remarkable meeting of the board of trade was held here to-night when Mining Engineer John Fulton, of wide fame, talked of the wonderful advantages of Johnstown, and when the officers of the board reported deals closed for two new industries for the city and three others, one of immense importance knocking at our doors. Enthusiasm was unbounded, and it was augmented considerable when the committee on organization reported 147 new memberes. The two industries secured for Johnstown are a shirt factory, which will be started at once and employ over 100 women for the present, and a wall paper factory, in which Philadelphia capitalists are interested. Johnstown's Board of Trade has been hustling during the last six months and the result is that duite a number of new industries will locate here.

Bellefonte has even more and better facilities to offer than Johnstown but while Bellefonte has been thinking about it, Johnstown has been up and around and the result is that she received the prizes. Bellefonters thinks about this matter. Why not get some of these industries to locate here? It can be done if the Board of Trade wakes up.

Coal Miners May Strike.

Rumors are rife throughout the great bituminous coal district—embracing the counties of Clearfield Centre, Cambria and Westmoreland—that another big strike of the miners is at hand. The leaders of the miners are now busily engaged in trying to induce the men to go out April 1. For some unknown reason the leaders believe this to be an opportune time to go out on a strike, which they hope will include every miner in the Pennsylvania coal fields. The grounds of dissatisfaction among the miners, at present, is the wage schedule adopted some time ago, and which is the lowest rate under which the men have yet worked. Three years ago they engaged in a long and bitter fight which practically stopped production of several months, but in the end the miners had to yield, without bettering their condition to any considerable extent. Since then there has been considerable dissatisfaction and a good deal of talk of another strike in which all coal miners, north and south would participate, but nothing has come of it.

A REVIEW OF TRADE.

What R. G. Dunn & Co. Think of the Condition of Business Affairs.

New York, March 20.—R. G. Dunn & Co., will say to-morrow in their weekly review of trade. Failures for two weeks of March cover liabilities for two weeks against $7,372,47[illegible] of $6,799,397, the week were 261 in the United States against [illegible]8 last year, and 49 in Canada against 35 last year. Movement toward better things is still the exception. There is better business in shoes and small indutries and there has been a squeezins of short sellers in cotton. But the general tendency of industries and prices is not encouraging, and those who where more hopeful a month ago are still waiting not so hopefully, for the expected recovery. Obstructions to recovery are not to be songht primarily in the investment or the money market, but in the industrial reaction after the unnatural expansion of demand and prices last year.

It is a striking fact that the only great industry which is now rapidly gaining in business is the only one in which prices have been cut down to last yaas's lowest, figures, and the boot and shoe makers had a reason for hesitation in the prices of leather, which still average 6 per cent higher than last year, though hides are 13 per cent lower having again declined the past week about 3 per cent.

A sharp decline in the prices of cotton goods is the comment of mills on rising cotton. Goods now average lower than since May, 1895, having declined 4.4 per cent for the week. Print cloths to 2½ cts. which is only a sixteenth above the low est price on record. The accumulation of goods in the face of slack and rapid diminishing demand has brought the closing of one of the largest mills and others are considering. The iron industries show but a slight average decline in the prices as combinations still insist upon the highest prices of last year and the demand is naturally curtailed. Quotations are deceptive because lower prices are constantly made to secure business. But with oar and coke combinations demanding high figures hesitation is inevitable. Minor metals change little but aluminum, by misprint quoted here erroneously last week, sells at fifty cents.

Compulsory Education.

Dr. Nathan C. Schaeffer, superintendent of public instruction, is making a careful study of the question of compulsory education with a view of deyising the best means for the enforcement of the law enacted by the last legislature. He says that the day for arguing whether we should have a compulsory act or not is gone. "It is simply a question whether the act passed by the last legislature will be enforced. I have no apology to make for or endeavoring to carry out the law which is my sworn duty to enforce. If the law is a good one, of course it should be enforced. If it cannot be enforced let us find out the reason why. If any of its provisions are inadqueate or unwise let it be amended. Perhaps the mere attempt to enforce it will bring to light the causes which now keep the children out of school.

Will Admit Women.

By a vote of 117 to 89 the Philadelphia Methodist Episcopal conference on Wednesday decided in favor of the proposed constitutional amendment admitting women as lay delegates to the general conference. An uneffectual attempt was made in the closing hour to get a vote on the question of equal representation of lay and clerical delegates in the general conference. The conference adjourned sin die after the announcement of the appointments.

THE BLUES.

Why do Women have the Blues more than Men?

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

Are not women naturally as light-hearted, brave, and hopeful as men?

Yes; but woman's organism is different from man's.

Women in perfect or good health are rarely victims of this symptom.

Women nearly monopolize the blues, because their peculiar ailments promote them.

When the female organs fail to perform their functions properly, when the dreaded female complaints appear, there is shown nervousness, sleeplessness, faintness, backache, headache, bearing-down pains, etc., causing the dreaded "let-me-alone" and "all-gone" feelings.

When the woman does not understand what the matter is, and her doctor can not or will not tell her, she grows morose and melancholy; that's the blues.

Mrs. Newton Cobb, of Manchester, O., says: "Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will correct all this trouble. I cannot praise it enough. I am pleased to tell every one that it cured me; and if it will cure me, why not others? I am sure my case was severe enough." It will.

Valuable Old Relics.

Andrew Albright of Tylersville Clinton County, by occupation a buggy and coach maker, has in his posession an Octagon Point which bears the remarkable date of 1717 cut on it, thus making it 179 years old. This Octagon Point was used to crush the corn they used formash for cooking purposes. Mr. Albright also has an old Meat Cleaver, which is in the form of a half circle with handles on either end. This cleaver bears the date of 1636 making it at this time exactly 260 years old. The out side of the circle is the blade or cutting edge. There is also a tool to scrape or clean the fine cut meat from the inside of the vessel. This tool bears the same date as the cleaver. The Octagon Point cleaver, and the scraper were made by Mrs. Albright's great, great grand parents who lived in Wiedenburg, Germany. These tools were handed down from one family to another and they are yet in almost perfect condition. Mr. Albright has an old flint lock which is also a valuable old relic. It bears the date of 1793. The flint lock is one of the long barrel kind and is about 5 feet in length and of a twisted bore. Another ancient relic in the Albright family is a pair of scissors which bear the date of 1014 or 882 years old. Mr. Albright prizes these old relics very highly and naturally is very proud of them. The relics are in the best of condition and to look at them one would not know that they were of such ancient type as they really

A GREAT OFFER

FOR NEXT NINETY DAYS.

..BOOK BOOKS..

FREE OF CHARGE

To Subscribers Of

The Bellefonte Republican.

Read this announcement carefully and preserve it for future reference. See list of titles given below. It will be seen that the list includes the names of such well-known authors as Thomas Carlyle, Washington Irving, W. M. Thackeray, J. Fenimore Cooper, George Elliot, William Black, M. E. Braddon and many others. The BELLEFONTE REPUBLICAN believes that it pays to pursue a liberal policy towards its subscribers, and therefore makes the following announcement:

1 Any person who subscribes for the BELLEFONTE REPUBLICAN for one year, whether at present a subscriber or not, any time between now and April 1st, 1896, making payment in advance at the regular subscription price, $1·50 per year, may order any 7 volumes listed below and they will be mailed postage paid, absolutely free of charge. Consequently the person who takes advantage of this offer will not only receive the BELLEFONTE REPUBLICAN for a year, but will receive also the full value in books of the amount of money paid. This offer is bona-fide and means exactly what it says!

2. Any subscriber of the BELLEFONTE REPUBLICAN in arrears who will pay up his indebtedness by April 1st, 1896, may order any 1 volume listed below for every 25 cents of the amount which he pays. The books will be mailed postage paid, free of charge. The subscriber in arrears who takes advantage of this offer may also avail himself of the offer outlined in the paragraph above. For example, if the amount due is $1.50 and this indebtedness is paid and also $1.50 additional for a year's subscription in advance ($3.00 in all), any 14 volumes may be ordered and they will be mailed postpaid, free of charge.

Books will be delivered by mail only.

Books must be ordered by number as given in the catalogue, and not by the name of the book. Every order for a book should contain at least three numbers, indicating the first, second and third choice, so that if the first choice should happen to be out of stock another book to the subscriber's taste can be sent instead.

All orders should be addressed to

THIRTEEN WERE KILLED.

Terrible Explosion of Gas in a Berwind-White Mine at Dubois.

DuBois Pa., March 23.—Thirteen men were killed by an explosion of gas in the Berwind-White shaft, just east of the town, at 9·20 o'clock this mornicg. The dead are:

JAMES GRAHAM, SR.
JAMES GRAHAM, JR.
GEORGE POSTLETHWAITE.
JESSE POSTIETHWAITE.
HENRY HARVEY.
GEORGE HARVEY.
HENRY SMITH.
LINDSEY F. BRADFEY.
ANDREW MOWAK.
DAVID BELL.
REUBEN NOBLE.
GEORGE AINSLEY.

All the bodies have been recovered. Seventeen men went down the shaft at 7 o'clock in the morning, 13 going into a heading north of the shaft and four others in the opposite direction. The latter with the mine boss, where the only ones to escape the terrible shock. The four were half a mile away from the shaft shortly after 9 o'clock, when they believed they felt a shock. While they were still thinking of it mine Boss Harvey rushed up and told them to rush to the foot of the shaft as fast as they could, as he was sure there was something wrong. When the reached the shaft they discovered they gas and knew what the trouble was. Their first effort was to put up bratticesa which had been blown off by the explosion, hoping that it might turn an air current to their comrades in the other part of the mine, but before they could accomplish much the gas began to overcome them and they had to be taken up in the cage, one of them then being in a serious condition. Then it was that the news reached the out side world.

The shaft is nearly 300 feet deep, and for some time traces of gas have been known to be in t e chambers, but pre cautionary measures weer observed to avoid a disaster. The mine is a new one, in early stages of developement, and for that reason no more men were at work at the time of the explosion.

Twelve of the thirteen bodies have been recovered from the shaft. It is not known whether the remaining body is that of Bell or Noble, as the body of the last victim brought to surface is mutilated beyond recognition.

Forgot Where He Was

Middle division freight trainmen have the laugh on one of their fellows who lives in one of the little towns along the division. There was a revival going on in one of the town's churches, and our railroader dropped in at one of the evening services. He was an attentive listner, but tired nature asserted itself before the parson and workers got thoroughly warmed up, and he was soon in a deep slumber. Like many railroaders he "was out on the road" even in his dreams, and when one of his sisters was in the height of her happy shoutings, our rail road friend suddenly leaped to his feet, waved his arm to an imaginary brakeman, and shouted "hold them cars." Once thoroughly awakened by his own exclamation and the snickering of the young folks near him, he found "where he was at," and didn't remain much longer. He appears to enjoy the joke immensely—out on the road.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

—Men's eyes do not focus well enough to note readily the advent hour of the world's Messiahs. By by paths, not by thoroughfares or by highways, does Truth come to its kingdom among men. Good never gallops to victory here on this earth, nor in any instance does Truth march to its crown in a dress parade. It enters its kingdom always via Golgotha, a jerking mob brandishing sticks accompaning, even its best deciples following afar off, the women staying nearest, and is lifted to its crown on a cross between reviling thieves.—Temilron.

Sale Bills.

Farmers who intend holding public sales will do well to call at the REPUBLICAN office -and find our prices. It is remarkable how reasonable the prices are. They will open your eyes in astonishment. A Traveling Fraud.

The public is cautioned against a traveling fraud who has already victimized people in a number of towns in the state. He claims to be an agent of the goverment, and going to the houses of the veterans says that the department is about to give orders for several hundred thousand blue army shirts wishing to give the wives of the veteran a chance to make a little money, the goverment has decided to give the shirts out to soldier's families to make up. When he receives an order for the shirts the agent looks over the sewing machine in the house and finding that the stitch is not just right offers to change it for a dollar, the money to be given back when the material for the shirt is delivered by an assistant. His victims are now lo king for the assistant.

Pure Brandy.

We call our readers attention to the following testimonal from undoubted authority on the excellence and purity of Speer's Climax Brandy.

Mr. Speer;—I congratulated you on a recent unsought testimonal as to the purity of your brandy. Lady Duffus Hardy, of London, England, an old acquaintance of mine, on testing from the bottle of brandy we brought from Passaci, immediately asked me to get a like one for her which I did. The English aristocrats, you know, male and female are pretty good judges of brandy. I remain Yours Truly, Prentice Mulford, Editor Graphic.

Anxious for a Rise.

Raftsmen and lumbermen are anxiously waiting for the ice to move out of the dam so they can get their timber down the river. The river is clear of ice at Keating and yesterday Henry Fisher began rafting in at that point. Logs are also reported as running out of Pine creek, below the city. An old raftsman said this afternoon that never in his recollection did a like condition exist before—that rafting in logs above the city and logs running below, with ice ten inches thick on the dam. A PRESIDENTIAL GALLERY.

Portraits of Presidential Candidates and Their Wives Given Free.

A rich treat is in store for all who receive copies of The Philadelphia Sunday Press during the next two months. Beginning with next Sunday the 29th inst., The Sunday Press will give free with every paper, at intervals during the next two months, splendid portraits of the leading candidates for President of the United States. The portraits will be works of art, made from the latest photographs, and as part of the same plate will be given equally fine portraits of wives of the distinguished gentlemen. The complete collection will be rarely interesting and is certain to be greatly sought after. Speaker Reed and Mrs. Reed, are the subject of the first pictures of the series, which will begin next Sunday.

Miner Wages Increased.

Philipsburg, Pa., March 23.—The long-promised increase in the mining rate throughout Northern and Central Pennsylvania is to be made April 1. Notices to that effect are to be posted at all mines in this section to-morrow morning. The increase is to be 5 cents a ton, making the rate 45 cents per gross ton and 40 cents per ton net. The minersare dissapointed that the increase was not 10 per cent a on.

—By memorial, 300,000 Philadelphia people protest to the License Court against the increasing liberty given to the liquor traffic in this city and beg for a more rigid restriction. On Monday of the six cases heard of places remonstrated against, the first two applicants were rejected outright, the third was granted a renewal and the other three were held under advisement. Many hundreds of remonstrances are to be heard. Secretary Gibbony and the law and the Order Society surprised the court and the public by the character of the witnesses brought in to sustain remonstrances: The Rev. Drs. Hughes O. Gibons and Charles Raeds, and Attorneys George W. Marter and Robert P. Bradford testified against applicants on Monday. City and State.

More He Grows, Less He Knows.

An exchange rings in like this; At twenty a young man knows it all; he likes to wag his active tongue and exercise his gall; he struts around in noble rage, the world is all his own; he laughs to scorn the world of age, and lists to self alone; he wears a window in his eye to see his whiskers grow; he thinks the ladies pine and die because they love him so. At forty he knuckles down to biz; 'tis not till sixty that he knows how big a chump he is.

A Magazine's Influence

The enormous circulation of such a magazine as the Ladies Home Journal can in a sense, be understood when it is said that during the last six months of 1895 there were printed, sold and circulated over four million copies—(in exact figures 4,058,801). Figures such as these give one some idea of the influence which may be exerted by even a single one of the modern magazines. —Teacher's Home Journal, Philadelphia.

Sued for Damages, Too.

B. K. Focht, editor of the Lewisburg Saturday News was in our city to-day making preparations for his libel suit instituted by Fred Kurtz, editor of the Centre Hall Reporter, which will come up in the April term of the Centre county courts. While in our city writs for damages were served on him by Deputy Sheriff Weaver. Focht was arrested several weeks ago on the charge of criminal libel and the proceedings of to-dav were in the nature of a civil suit. The suits are the outcome of a bitter political fight in Union county. Senator A D Miller was also arrested with Editor Focht, but as yet no proceedings for damages have been instituted against him. What the out come of these libel suits will be is of course at this time unknown. Some spicy proceedings are expected to be developed.

Big Fire at Chester.

Chester, Pa., March 24.—The large cotton storage house of Ebenezer Birkwell was destroyed by fire to-night, involving a loss of about $60,000. Fifteen hundred bales of cotton, owned by Woodward & Stillman, of New York, were consumed. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

Sour

Stomach, sometimes called waterbrash, and burning pain, distress, nausea, dyspepsia, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This it accomplishes because with its wonderful power as a blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla gently tones and strengthens the stomach and digestive organs, invigorates the liver, creates an appetite, gives refreshing sleep, and raises the health tone. In cases of dyspepsia and indigestion it seems to have "a magic touch."

"For over 12 years I suffered from sour with severe pains across my shoulders, and great distress. I had violent nausea which would leave me very weak and faint, difficult to get my breath. These spells came oftener and more severe. I did not receive any lasting benefit from physicians, but found such happy effects from a trial of Hood's Sarsaparilla, that I took several bottles and mean to always keep it in the house. I am now able to do all my own work, which for six years I have been unable to do. My husband and son have also been greatly benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla—for pains in the back, and after the grip. I gladly recommend this grand blood medicine." MRS. Compositors are supposed to be able to decipher all kinds of handwriting, even that of editors and ministers. On this point Mr. Robert Clark, the Edinburg printer, tells this story.

Professor Lindsay Alexander came into our office one Friday with the manuscript of a sermon.

"You must let me have proofs of this, to-morrow," he said.

I told him the time was too short. He must give us a few days longer.

"No," he said. "I must preach the sermon to-morrow. It is a special sermon. I wrote it ten years ago, and now I can't make out a single word of it."—Youth's Companion.

Death of a Route Agent.

P. E. Kreps, route agent for the district of the Adams Express company, comprising all the agencies and routes between Harrisburg and Bellwood with branches, died at his home at Huningdon at 10 o'clock Friday night. About three months ago Mr. Kreps rescued a drunken man from certain death on the railroad at Huntingdon, in the effort seriously injuring his kidneys, since which time he has been in poor health. On Thursday he was on board of day express going east when he was suddenly stricken with paralysis. He was removed to his home at Huntingdon where he lingered a few hours and expired at the time stated.—Tyrone Herald.

Seizure of Arms and Ammunition.

Philadelphia, March 20.—From information received here to-day the seizure of arms and ammunition made yesterday by the Spanish in Cuba, is not so important as the official dispatches from Havana would indicate. The ammunitions seized were not those taken out on the Mallory, but were taken from the schooner Arkell. The Arkell was at anchor at a place called El Varadero. All the arms aboard had been landed, save 145 cases of ammunition, when the gunboat Caradad hove in sight. The men on the Arkell abandoned the schooner and hastily escaped to the shore. The Caradad seized the Arkell and 145 cases of ammunition.

Conference News.

Williamsport, Pa., March 19. At this morning's session of the Central Pennsylvania M. E. Conference the committee on investigation in the case of Rev. W. F. D. Noble of Burnham, reported that they found that he had not been guilty of irregularity in office, but that he deserved censure for imprudent conduct. M. P. Greswaith, H. S. Mendenhall and George Traub were placed on the superannuated list. Dr. Gray, president of Dickinson Seminary, reported that institution in a flourishing condition. Dr. Rishell, of the Boston Theological Seminary, Rev. Dr. Beiller, vice-chancellor of the American University, in Washington City, and Rev. J. Z. Lloyd of Waynesboro, delivered addresses, the latter preaching the semi-centennial sermon. The anniversary of the Educational Society was held in the afternoon, the principal speaker being Rev. Rishell. The reception and opening at Bradley Hall, the new musical and art building connected with Dickinson Seminary, took place this evening. The crush was beyond anything that has ever occurred in this city. The reception was given to the clergy and lay delegates, to the city officials, school board, councils and leading citizens. The reception committee consisted of Councilman H. A. Slate, Dr. and Mrs. E. J. Gray, Gov. and Mrs. D. H. Hastings, Hon. and Mrs. Thos. Bradley, ex-Gov. and Mrs. Pattison, Hon. and Mrs. John Patton of Curwensville, Bishop Vincent, Attorney General and Mrs. H. C. McCormick, Hon. and Mrs. T. H. Murray of Clearfield, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis McDowell of this city, G. W. Hipple of Lock Haven, and W. F. Thompson of this city. Speeches were made by Messrs. Hastings, Pattison, Bradley, Patton, Vincent, McCormick, Murray, Mayor Elliott, Judge J. J. Metzgar and others.

Beware of Counterfeiters.

Who infest the market and are the means of robbing sick people of their money, and what is of still greater consequence of not unfrequently aggravating the complaints under which they labor. It is an act of duty we owe to society to warn the people against these dangerous frauds. A little care on the part of the purchaser will protect them from imposition by bearing in mind these facts: Never buy where it is offered in bulk, (in kegs or jugs) as the genuine Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are sold only in bottles having the handsome steel plate label displaying the combat between St, George and the Dragon, and having at the bottom a miniature note of hand for one cent, bearing a facsimile of the signature of the president of the company. Over the cork is a metallic cap, on which is impressed the name of the article, together with a medallion head in the centre. Any person selling the counterfeit Hostetter's Stomach Bitters we shall not hesitate to bring to justice, as we never fail to convict.

WON BY THE WOMEN.

The Central M. E. Conference Votes Their Admission.

Williamsport, Pa., March 20.—Gov Hastings and ex-Governor Pattison attended this morning's session of the Central Pennsylvania M. E. Conference. Rev. Dr. Concher, president of the Baltimore Woman's College, delivered an address on the work of his institution. The following young men were received into full membership and stationed as follows: J. C. Bickel at Hazleton, G. E. Boggs at McKees Gap, F. G. Buyers at York, Joseph Clemens at Montalto, F. E. Hartman at Nescopeck, W. W. Hartman at Delano, D. D. Kauffman at Cassville, C. G. Roop at East Waterford, and W. E. Vandermark at Aundenried.

The question of admitting women as lay delegates to the Conference was passed by a vote of 152 to 52. It was decided to reduce the number of delegates to the General Conference. The following were chosen: Dr. W. W. Evans of Harrisburg, Rev. E. J. Gray of Williamsport, Rev. S. G. Swallow of Harrisburg. Rev. D. S. Monroe of Altoona, and Rev. E. H. Yocum of Danville. At the meeting of the laymen the woman question was voted on favorably. Delegates elected to the General Conference are Hon. John Patton of Curwensville and T. H. Murray of Clearfield.

Stabbed a Butcher and Killed Him

Norristown, March 20.—The victim of Joseph Boste's stiletto, John H. Eckert, has died in the hospital. Eckert was a butcher and was stabbed last Tuesday. According to his ante-mortem statement, there was a quibble over the price of meat between Eckert and Bont. After the quarrel was supposed to be over and Eckert was going to his wagon to load it with meat, Bonte, who was concealed behind a door, sprang out and dealt the deadly blow. Bonte is accused of cutting Jacob Frances, who went to Eckert's assistance.

Note of Warning.

Indigestion produces inflamation and ulceration of the stomach, and these are the exciting cause of so many deaths from cancer of the stomach. South American Nervine is the most momentous cure for stomach troubles the world ever saw. There is no case of indigestion and stomach weakness which it will not cure. A sound stomach is never affected by cancerous growths. Save yourself by using this renowned cure which never disappoints. Sold by F. P. Green druggist, Bellefonte, Pa. j29-1y.

Married.

On March 10th at the Lutheran parsonage by Rev. Ed Everett Hosbour, Miss Estella Tate of Pleasant Gap and William J. Lambert of Bellefonte.

A PERILOUS WOOING.

At one time of my life I was governness in the family of Sir William Mordaunt. My only pupil was his only daughter, May, and both Sir William and Lady Mordaunt were the kindest and most generous of employers. My pupil was a sweet, docile child about seven years old at the time the event I am about to relate took place.

Then the inevitable "he" appeared on the scene in the person of Frank Dudley, a younger brother of Lady Mordaunt. Frank was in the army and had been in India for some time with his regiment, but was invalided home for six months. Before that six months was concluded Frank had fallen desperately in love with the pretty governess—I am a staid old married woman now, so this is not conceit—but when it came to the crucial point I could not find it in my heart to say the little word that would make him happy. For one reason, though I liked him and was pleased with his attention, I was not sure enough of my own heart to marry him; and for another, kind as Sir William and Lady Mordaunt were I did not feel by any means certain that the marriage of their young brother to a penniless governess would be altogether to their mind, and I was too proud to enter any family where I should only be received on sufferance. So I sent poor Frank away very desolate. He went up to London for a few weeks, and was thence to go to Ireland, with the regiment into which he had exchanged.

Our next visitor was Mr. Jasper Mourdaut, a brother of Sir William. Mr. Jasper had been ill, suffering with severe mental strain and nervous depression. He was not happy in his married life, and it was thought the complete rest and change in the bracing air and lovely scenery of our Welsh home would be beneficial to him. Sir William and Lady Mordaunt went to town, but only the former returned with with his brother, Lady Mordaunt having gone to Brighton for a week or two with Mrs. Jasper.

It was late in the evening when Sir William arrived, but I own I felt somewhat scared as I caught a glimpse of his wild, dark eyes. His appearance next morning did not tend to reassure me more especially as he immediately singled me out as the object of his exclusive attention, and kept fixing his eyes upon me as I sat at the head of the table dispensing the tea and coffee, in a manner which was embarrassing. He addressed nearly all his remarks to me, and kept paying me such broad compliments that I felt myself getting crimson, partly with vexation and partly with amusement. Sir William looked on laughing, and at last said:

"Come, come Jasper this won't do; if you say so many things to Miss Monroe I shall have to send for Susan (Mrs. Jasper) to keep you in order. And by the way you have not told me how you slept last night. I hope you were comfortable.

That set him off.

"Slept" he cried excitedly. "Why I never slept a wink all night,—not one blessed wink, Miss Monroe.

I expressed my regret, and Sir William inquired the cause of Mr. Jasper's insomania.

"Well, I'll tell you all about it," he said; but, first of all, do you believe in the transmigration of souls?"

"Certainly not," replied Sir William, with conviction. "It is an exploded superstition."

"Oh, it is, then?" answered Mr. Jasper. "Well, I can tell you it is nothing of the sort, but a real certain fact, and I'll prove it to you, and tell you why I could not sleep last night. Some years ago I knew a lawyer; he lived next door to me, and was reckoned a very respectable member of the profession. Now, this man was an awful scoundrel and swindler, used to get people to intrust him with their money to invest and then make way with it. Why, I knew three sisters for whom he was trustee, and whom he completely ruined. Well, at last this man failed for I don't know how many thousands, and numbers were involved in this ruin, among others the three sisters I told you of. Then the man shot himself. Now, that man had not the soul of a man at all—he had the soul of a rat, a miserable, squeaking vermin of a rat, and when he died his soul went into a rat's body. It was late one evening when I saw a big black rat run through my room, which was on the other side of the wall to his. It was an enormous rat, quite black, with long, white whiskers and very bright eyes, and it ran squeaking and shrieking through my room and then disappeared. I could not see where it went to. The next morning I heard the man had shot himself. Then I knew it was the man's soul which had gone into the body of the big black rat."

Of course, they had an inquest, and brought in the Verdict, 'temporary insanity,' and they had a big funeral and all his relatives came. They invited me, and I went out of politeness, you know; but when they came, to that bit of service about 'the soul of our dear brother resting in peace,' why I could have laughed in their faces, for I knew it was not resting in peace at all, but careering away somewhere in the body of that black rat."

Sir William, who had been looking grave during this tirade, here broke into a smile and observed:

"Well, old fellow, I dare say you are not so far out; it would be the fittest punishment for such a scoundel as you describe. But did you never see that rat again?"

"Yes many times; but the last time of all was here, in this very house," cried Jasper, excitedly.

"Indeed?" said Sir William. "Why, then you must have brought it with you."

"No such a thing," retorted Jasper scornfully; "a rat like that does not want to be brought anywhere. But," he continued, "I am confident it is also identical with a little dark man who has taken the lawyer's house, and who goes to business every day carring a black, shiney bag. I watch him every day as he passes, and I always say, Good morning, Sir Rat, under my breath. You mark my words, though, and look out for that rat. I got up and chased all around the room and out into the passage, and I am confident it dissappeared in the drains. You have not seen the last of it yet."

Before Mr. Jasper had been very long in the house it became evident that his mental derangement was of a more serious character than had been imagined. At times he was quiet and lucid enough, and then he would suddenly break out into some incoherent rhodomontade. His inconvenient penchant for me still continued, and he would haunt the schoolroom with gifts of fruit and flowers, or sweets and music, or anything for which he had heard me express a liking.

One morning, soon after breakfast, I was on the lawn with May, snipping dead roses off the bushes, and gathering a fresh supply for the table.

"Here comes Uncle Jasper; let us hide," said May.

I turned, and beheld Mr. Jasper advancing in his peculiar ambling fashion. Flight was impossible, so I held May's hand, and waited until he came up with us. He held an enormous full-blown crimson picotee in his hand, and came eagerly up to me.

"Ah, my princess. I have found you; I have been looking everywhere for you to give you this," pressing the gaudy blossom into my hand. "Don't you remember the old rhyme, Miss Monroe?

The rose is red, the violet's blue,
Carnation's sweet, and so are you.

"You, you," he cried; "you are my rose and my carnation, and my morning star, all rolled into one; I—"

Where this outburst of poetic eloquence would have ended I do not know, for at this moment Simpson, the butler, came up to Mr. Jasper.

"Mr. Jasper," he said, "will you please come and speak to Sir William in the study? He wants to see you on business, very particular."

"Now why do you come and talk about business when you see me talking with Miss Monroe?" demanded Jasper testily. "Go away! I cannot attend to you or business now."

On my representing to Mr. Jasper, however, that I must attend to mine, and take May in to do her lessons, he consented to accompany Simpson to the study, saying as he walked away:

"Well, I will go now, but I shall come again, I have something very particular to say to you."

About a week after this Sir William and Lady Mordaunt—warned by the doctor that though Mr. Jasper was not dangerously violent at present, he might at any time become so—went up to town to see Mrs. Jasper and arrange about having her husband placed under proper control, even if only for a short time.

"Simpson has experience in metal cases, and will take charge of Jasper, so you need not feel nervous," said Lady Mordaunt to me, as she went away.

I resolved that I would spend the day in the school-room, and give my eccentric lover a wide berth. In the afternoon however, May complained of a headache, and I sent her to her nurse to lie down. Then tempted by the beauty of the day, I took my book and went out, intending to spend the afternoon on the cliffs.

For a little while I read undisturbed. Then a sudden shadow across my book made me look up, and there, with a wild glare in his eyes and a look of savage frenzy on his face, stood Mr. Jasper.

I started to my feet with a cry of horror. There was no mistaking the deadly light of insanity in his eyes. I was on the edge of a dangerous cliff with a madman.

"My gem, my princess and star," he cried, "I have found you at last; they have been trying to keep us apart all day, but now we have found each other and will never part any more."

"His gem, princess and star"—though I imagined I must have resembled a frightened thunder cloud more than any of the above similes—turned on him indignantly, and I did the most foolish thing under the circumstances that I could do—I forgot that I was dealing with a lunatic, and spoke to him as if he were sane.

"Please go away at once, Mr. Jasper: I came here to be alone, and do not wish for company."

"Oh, now you are going to be just like my wife; she is always scolding and nagging, never gives me a minute's peace. But I love my wife, I do," he added, reflectively, as if by way of afterthought; "I love my wife; do you believe me?"

This under the circumstances, was a satisfactory assertion on Mr. Jasper's part and I hastened to assure him of my perfect confidence in his conjugal fidelity, adding: "But she would not like to see you be having in this way; loose my hands, please, Mr. Jasper, and go away."

For answer he drew me closer to him; I could feel his hot breath on my face, and my terror was increasing every moment.

"I love my wife," reiterated Mr Jasper, "but I love the morning star, and you, you are the morning star. Come let us jump over this precipice into the glorious space, and we will circle round the moon together, and be happy forever."

Then to my horror, Mr. Jasper placed his arm around me and forcibly lifted me off my feet. In another instant we should have started on that aerial journey Mr. Jasper wished to take. To struggle in thas vice-like grip was unavailing; there was not a human being within reach to come to my assistance; one more step, and we should be over the cliff, and must inevitably be dashed to pieces on the rocks below. I uttered one long, piercing scream. Then a loud, clear voice rang in my ears:

"Jasper, Jasper, what are you about? For heaven's sake loose this young lady; do yon want to kill both yourself and her?"

Then I felt myself wrenched from the grasp of the madman, and almost flung to a safe distance on the grass.

"Frank, Frank," I cried, "oh, how thankful I am you have come,"

Later in the evening I was sitting in the drawing room, pale, but quite recovered, when Frank Dudley came in.

"Oh Mr. Dudley," I said, "I can never thank you enough—you have saved my life; but for you I should now be lying crushed and lifeless at the foot of the great Tor."

"Mr. Dudley," he said, seating himself on the couch beside me. "I was 'Frank' this afternoon; please may I not say so?"

"Oh, I forgot then; I was so frightened I did not know what I was saying," I replied, and I know I got very red as I said it.

"Well it was very nice I wish you would always be so frightened, and not know what you are saying when you are talking to me. But you have not asked me how it is I am here instead of far away in Ireland."

"No I have not: but how was it?"

"Well' you see, the regiment is not to sail for a week later than it was arranged, so having time to spare I came down here. They told me you had gone out on the cliffs, so I went out to find you. Elsie I came back to see if you would consider what you said to me—if you would give me any hope."

I don't know who spoke next nor precisely what was said but I know Frank's strong arms wheare atound me and I felt his kisses upon my lips. All this happened many years ago. My husband is Colonel of his regiment now, and two little girls will leave their play in the compound and come and sit on the veranda while mother tells the story of how poor, mad Uncle Jasper tried to jump over the cliffs with her, and father came and rescued her.—Household Words.

A Mystery of the River.

Beaver, Pa March 18.—The much decomposed body of a man was found in the Ohio river near Vanport on Tuesday. There were in the clothing a watch $2 in money, baggage check no 11,618, a Hotel Wilson card and papers bearing the name of Gimble or Gilbert. The dead man is supposed to have fallen from a steamboat. The baggage check had been issued by the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago railroad. The verdict of the coroner's jury was that he was accidently drowned.

Chronic

is a disease hard to cure, as is the morphine habit. Every organ of the body is affected. A continual demand for a stimulant is called for. Food ceases to gratify, in fact, often cannot be retained on the stomach, or when it is the vitiated blood ceases to absorb nourishment from it. Give such sufferers that greatest of food stimulants, blood-enrichers, flesh-creators, a highly concentrated extract of the vital principles of lean beef, it is retained by the weakest stomach and nourishes quickly, so that with renewed tissue and returned strength morbid cravings vanish. Dr. J. B. Mattison of the Brooklyn "Home for Habitues" writes of Bovinine. "It is the best thing on earth of its kind. It is sustaining, nourishing, helpful in every way to patients of my special class."

Desperado Killed.

Uniontown, Pa., March 18.—In a fight with policemen last night August Tibbs, the negro desperado, better known as "Eatabite" Tibbs, was shot and probably fatally wounded. He was wanted on a charge of highway robbery committed two weeks ago, and the officers learned that he was in the house of Jessie Davis with whom he was mixed up in the prosecution of Augustine for being a member of the disorderly house syndicate. Constables John H. Murphy, Daniel Collins, John Lietnar, A. C. Sisler and Lucius Morten started out to make the arrest. The two Sislers and Murphy unexpectedly came up with Tibbs on Centre street. He was accompanied by another negro, Henry Blaine and a colored woman. Judson Sisler told him that he was wanted at the police station, and Tibbs replied that they could not take him. Then Tibbs drew his revolver and there was an exchange of bullets for a few seconds. Tibbs went to the house of William Swan, and it was then found that he had been badly wounded during the pistol firing.

To-day Assistant District Attorney W. E. Crow, accompanied by Justice W. H. Miller, took the anti-mortem statement of Tibbs. He said that the officers were the aggressors and had fired on him from ambush. He was taken to the hospital at Connellsville later to-day, where an examination showed that he had been shot through the lungs and cannot recover. He has been a disorderly character here for several years. Yesterday he sent a note to Constable John Murphy saying that if the constable thought of arresting him he had better bring his coffin along. It is said that Tibbs contemplated the assassination of Judge Mertrezat for the junge's rebuke to him for displaying a pistol in court on the occasion for the Jessie Davis trial.

Opinions From the Superior Court

Harrisburg, March 18.—The superior court handed down the following decisions to-day: Spring Township Overseer vs. Walker Township Overseer, Centre county affirmed; Fisher vs. South Williamsport, Lycoming, reverser; Odenwelder's estate, appeal from orphan's court of Northampton county, affirmed; Creasy and Wells vs Emanuel Reformed church, Columbia county, affirmed; Applegate vs. Conn and Boyer, Lehigh, reargument refused. Hoffa vs. Person, Wyoming (Millheim's appeal) reversed; Hoffa vs. Person (Haffa's appeal) affirmed; E. H. Grifleth vs Khorr, Clearfield county, affirmed; London Assurance Company vs. Russell, Wayne county, reargument refused.

She Wondered Why.

There were three of them two girls and one boy, the latter as bashful a creature as ever lived. It was about 10 p. m. and for a few seconds nobody spoke. Suddenly the front door opened which caused the timid youth to tremble violently an inquiring voice at the front door wished to know "if her son was here." Now the shy youth in the parlor was not the son inquired for, but it would have been far better had that been the case, for hardly had he been able to collect his senses when one of the girls turned around and said "you had better run home right-away," and she wondered why he left so suddenly.

A CHANCE TO MAKE MONEY.

I have made $1,540 clear money in 87 days and attended to my household duties besides, and I think this is doing splendid for a woman inexperienced in business. Anyone can sell what everyone wants to buy, and every family wants a Dish Washer. I don't canvas at all; people come or send for the washers, and every washer that goes out sells two or three more, as they do the work to perfection. You can wash and dry the dishes in two minutes. I am going to devote my whole time to this business now, and I am sure I can clear $5,000 this year. My sister and brother have started in the business and are doing splendid. You can get complete instructions and hundreds of testimonials by addressing the Iron City Dish Washer Co., 100 S. Highland Ave., Station A, Pittsburg, Pa., and if you don't make lots of money it's your own fault. MRS. W. H.

Local Department.

—Don't forget the Undine ball on Monday evening April 6th.

—The new fire engine for DuBois, costing $3,100, arrived Saturday, and the papers say it is a beauty.

—Owing to the absence of Rev. Rue, there were no sermons delivered at the Methodist church on Sunday.

—One did not have much use for an overcoat on Sunday. There are some who won't need any in the next world either.

—We regret to announce that Mrs. H. S. Taylor is confined to her home with a slight illness. We sincerely hope she will soon recover.

—The many friends of Rev. J. W. Rue will be glad to learn that he will return to Bellefonte to continue as pastor of the M. E. Church at this place.

—School children and a few others, with the emphasis on the "others," are commencing to be sorely afflicted with spring fever. It seems to be contagious.

—The Magistrate's Library, published by Kay & Brother, Philadelphia, represents a most intelligent selection of reading for all who are interested in the study of law.

—Altoona's board of trade has secured a type-writer factory for that city. Bellefonte seems to be no nearer getting any new industries now than two years ago. Why is this?

—Every day symptoms of digestive disorders—acid stomach, distress after eating, burning at pit of stomach, dull heavy feeling—Burdock Blood Bitters never fails to correct any troubles of this sort.

—Detectives have scooped in James McDermott, proprietor of the Central Hotel at Indiana, and a local blacksmith named McKane, for counterfeiting, a complete outfit of counterfeiting tools having been found in a trunk in the hotel.

—Huntingdon is just at present in utter darkness owing to a disagreement between the borough council and the Electric light Co. If the "lights were turned on" in some of the political transactions which have taken place in that county during the past five years, there would be no need of arc lamps, candles etc.

—When you talk about there being a better state than Pennsylvania every potato winks its eye, every cabbage shakes ts head, every beat gets red in the face, every onion gets stronger, every oat field is shocked, the rye stokes its beard, the corn picks up its ears, and every foot of ground kicks.

—Dan Allen an insane inmate of the Cambria county almshouse, pried open the transom over the door of his room at an early hour Tuesday morning and escaped, and up to this time his whereabouts are unknown. On account of the inclemency of the weather it is feared that he may have perished in the snow drifts.

—The fifth annual convention of the Epworth League of Pennsylvania, Maryland and West Virginia will be held in Harrisburg, June 25 28. The session will be held in the Grace Methodist church and the address of welcome will be delivered by Gov. Hastings. Among the speakers will be Rev. Charles R. Boswell, of Phila., and Miss Davis, of Baltimore.

—People who indulge in the tobacco habit will be pleased to learn a war is on between the dealers in the weed. Individual tobacco manufacturers, having a capital of $50,000,000 have begun a war against the Tobacco Trust, having a capital of $40,000,000. They have made a reduction of three cents a pound of all brands of tobacco to all dealers in tobacco.

—Tramps are not so numerous in Huntingdon since the anti-tramp ordinance went into effect. Huntingdon News.

This should serve as a pointer for the own Council in connection with the tramp question which they have now under discussion. Bellefonte hasn't any more use for tramps than Huntingdon and the latter city won't have them under any consideration.

—The young man who has been monopolizing the time and attention of his acknowledged sweetheart for several months, and yet cannot make up his mind what to do, will perhaps have his indecision accelarated to a proposing point by the announcement that a Maryland judge has decided that after a young man has called on a young lady twenty five times the presumption that he means business has been established.

—The Huntingdon county Republican primares were held on Saturday. Thirteen districts heard from give McKinley 336 and Quay 180 votes for president, but it is believed the official count will show that McKinley leads Quay three to one. Jere B. Rex will go to the district conference as national delegate instructed for McKinley. C. K. Horton and John M. Phillips were elected delegates to the convention and will probably vote for State Senator Andrews for state chairman.

DEATH AT HALF MOON.

Mrs. Mary A. Furst, an Old and Respected Lady Dies, This Morning.

A sad death was that of Mrs. Mary A. Furst, wife of William R. Furst, of Half Moon Valley, who died at her home at 7.30 o'clock aged 74 years, of softening of the brain. The deceased was a daughter of P. B. Gray and was widely known throughout the communnity in which she lived. Three children are left to mourn the death of a kind and loving mother. They are Mrs. John B. Way, of Williamsburg, Blair county, and William G. and Lizzie who live at home. Four brothers and two sisters survive. They are W. S., of Stormstown, J. G. and G. W., of Buffalo Run, Rev. E. J. Gray, of Williamsport, Mrs. Sarah Wilson, of Newberry and Mrs. Rebecca Beck, who lives at Miles City, Montanna.

The funeral will be held at 1.30 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Interment will be made at Gray's Station.

The Magnet Office on Fire.

While the people of this city were sleeping about one o'clock Wednesday morning a dastardly attempt was made to burn the Magnet office. But fortunately the villian's plans were frustrated in time and although he resisted with all his might he was driven to the very edges of the earth. It was indeed a very narrow escape and had it not been for the wonderful presence of mind displayed by Editor Bailey, one of the noblest works of man would now be in asbes.

But that it was a deep conspiracy there is no doubt. The Magnet has ever known no master and freely advocates the principles of the prohibition party. That the plan was plotted by enemies is the only supposition plausible.

It was just about midnight when a dark skinned villan strolled over to the Magnet office and seeing a light inside soon entered. The office force was just turning off the weekly edition and consequently could not pay much attention to the intruder. Had they divined his intentions he would no doubt have been unmercifully kicked into the street. Carefully awaiting an opportunity the villian moved around to where a lamp was placed on a job press. When no one was looking he quickly brushed it with his arm into a pile of waste paper. Naturally there was considerable confusion for a few momens ts and not until this moment did the office people just see how cold blooded their visitor really was. It wat here that he played a desperate card that completely gave his plans away. While everybody else as trying to outen the flames the stranger was doing his best to make the fire burn faster But the hand of povidence was close by and the fire died a sudden death. As soon as the flames struck some Magnets lying on the floor they gaveup the ghost as the papers were so water-like that the conspirators were beaten in their own game. It was one of the meanest tricks we have ever heard of and severe punishment should be meted out to the vilan.

Cellars Full of Water.

Residents of East Howard street are very much annoyed and put to considerable inconvenience every time it rains or worse yet when the snow melts. There is very poor drainage on that end of the street and consequently the water settles in and fills up the cellars of the peoples' houses along the street. This is bad enough as it is in the amount of damage it causes to the property, but when one stops to think of the danger to health by this continuous dampness it makes the situation all the more serious.

On Sunday the snow melted so fast that there was a stream of water coursing down the street all afternoon. The result was that it was not long until the cellars were all full of water. This cannot help but damage the foundations of these houses and such a thing as a cave in would not be at all surprising.

The people living on that street petitioned the council at its last meeting to remedy the matter and it is to be hoped that their request will be immediately granted now.

Malarial Bitters.

Decatur, Ill., August, 26, 1893.

We consider that we have not only saved our lives but also our house and home by the use of Aunt Rachael's Peruvian Malarial Bitters. We have been sick with malarial fever the past two years and not able to work sufficiently to pay the interest and takes on our home and keep our family. We have used Aunt Rachael's Peruvian Malarial Bitters two months and we are rejoiced to say that our health has been restored and we are far from malarial fevers and chills. W. J. Campbell and Mary Campbell, wife.

Buried on Monday Morning.

The funeral of Alexander Bennett who died at his home at Stormstown on Friday was held Monday morning. Interment was made at Curtin's Works. The deceased was at one time a member of the Geo. L. Potter Post 261 of Milesburg and this Post and the one at Howard buried the departed brother with high military honors.

DAVID F. FORTNEY P. M.

DINED AT STATE COLLEGE.

Adjutant Foster Entertains Major Penny and his Staff.

Adjutant 1st Battalion, 5th reg. Philip D. Foster, gave a dinner Monday at State College to Major John P. Penney, of Pittsburg, and his staff of inspecting officers who came to Bellefonte to inspect Co. B, of this place. Capt. H. C. Quigley and lieutenants G. L. Jackson and H. S. Taylor of this place were also guests. After the dinner Lieut. McCaskey drew up the College battalions and they were reviewed by Major Penney, who was very much pleased with the drilling of the cadets. The party returned to this city on the afternoon train and an inspection of Co. B's state property was made.

High Water.

The sudden thaw on Sunday caused a general flood everywhere. In some places considerable damage was wrought by the high water.

In Bellefonte the gutters resembled miniature rivers more than anything else. On Bishop street the flow of water was, perhaps, greater than at any other place in town. It was a regular torrent all afternoon and was caused by the water draining from the fields in the vicinity of the Brick school house. Spring creek rose rapidly during the afternoon and quite a good bit of debris was carried down the stream. Much anxiety is felt by those who live along the river, owing to the great quantity of snow on the mountains which is melting very fast.

Buried on Sunday.

The funeral service over the remains of the late Charles McLauathan who died at Mill Hall on Friday were held from his home on Sunday afternoon. The deceased was at one time a member of Co. B. 5th. Reg. of this city and a squad of twenty-five attended the funeral in a body. A special train over the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania was run down and back and there were many friends who thus availed themselves of the opportunity to attend. Deceased was formerly a resident of Colevile and was well known throughout this community.

A Poverty Sociable.

The men of the German Reformed church will hold a "Poverty Sociable" on Thursday evening in the rooms in Crider's Exchange recently vacated by Orvis, Bower & Orvis. A rich treat is in store for all who may attend. The Reformed men are a jolly set and when they take charge of anything it is sure to be a success. Everybody is cordially invited to attend and see just what a Poverty Sociable is like.

Hurt Her Back.

Helen, the bright and interesting little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ceader, had the misfortune to fall down the stairs on Saturday and injured her back. She was resting as well as well as could be expected to-day and seemed to be much better. We hope her injuries will be short lasted and that it will not be long until she has entirely recovered.

You are Invited.

The Altar Guild of St. John's Protestant Episcopal church invites everybody to come to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Montgomery on East Linn street on Easter Thursday. April 9th from 7.30 to 10 p. m. A good time is insured to all who come. No admission will be charged to anybody. During the evening refreshments and fancy articles will be for sale for the benefit of the church.

If a small bottle of Shaker Digestive Cordial does you no good, don't buy a large one.

"Prove all things; hold fast that which is good." It's not good for everybody, only for the thin, pale, sick, weak and weary. For those who are starving for want of digested food. For those who cannot get fat or strong, because their stomachs do not work as they ought to.

These are the people millions of them, whom Shaker Digestive Cordial will cure.

Food makes strength, muscle, brain, blood, energy,—after it is digested. If not digested, it will do you no good at all.

Shaker Digestive Cordial helps your stomach to digest your food and cures indigestion permanently. When you've tried a small bottle, you can tell.

Sold by druggists. Trial bottle 10 cents.

Don't Forget This.

The members of the Evangelical church will hold a sociable at the Church on Friday and Saturday evening, Mar 27 and 28. Oysters, ice cream and cake and in fact every delicacy known will be for sale. The proceeds will be for the benefit of the church and it is to be hoped the sociable will be largeley patronized. A good time is assured all who attend. Don't forget the time and place. at the Evangelical church Friday and Saturday evening.

Called to Ohio.

Mr. Frank B. Stover, of this place, received a telegram on Sunday stating that his sister, Mrs. Dr. Crider was very ill and not expected to live, at Bucyrus, Ohio. Mr. Stover left on Monday morning on the early train for her home.

A Religious Town.

Centre Hall, with a population of 460, has six different religious congregations and seems to support all of them.

IT WAS LITERARY DAY.

An Interesting Program Presented at the Academy.

Friday was literary day at the Bellefonte Academy and the Addisonian Society presented a program that was far above the ordinary. An interesting debate followed the regular exercises and for a short time oratory was away above par. Both sides of the debaters presented strong arguments and it was only after a hard struggle that the affimative won a decision. The exercises all through were a complete success. Well prepared subjects in capable hands made the time pass only too quickly. The participants and their subjects were as follows:

Alfred Brislin, essay—"Electricity."

Pretty, But Bad.

Constable Jerry Funk of Philipsburg was an arrival in town on Tuesday having in custody Bertha Harris, a 16-year-old Philipsburg girl, who was arrested at the instigation of her father, William Harris. The girl was locked up in jail, where she will stay until the courts determine what shall be done with her. Bertha is a rather good looking young girl, possessing a rather neat figure, and to look at her one would not believe that she could be half as bad as she really is. The period of her escapades dates back about nine months, during which time she is said to have led a very gay life. Constable Funk said she gave some very damaging evidence against a Philipsburg hotel keeper at the hearing.

It is really too bad that such a young girl as this has to be locked up in jail. Bad as she may be, yet there are surely some redeeming traits in her and it is to be sincerely hoped some kind hand will be extended to her and save her from a felon's cell.

Keep it in Mind.

One thing the people of Bellefonte should constantly keep in mind is the fact that the Undine Fire Company. No. 2 will hold a grand Easter select ball on Monday evening April 6. Everybody should make it a point to purchase a ticket or rather several of them and thus help the boys along. That they are entitled to this support every-one knows and it is to be hoped that the people will not be "backward about coming forward" and make the fire laddies happy by purchasing all their tickets.

The best of order will be maintained and nothing will be allowed that might mar the evening's enjoyment. The Undines always come to you when you need them and you should return the favor by coming to them when they want you. See that you attend this ball. You will be glad of it in the end. It will be held in Bush's arcade and will without exception be the event of the season.

Death In Harris Township.

Mrs. Adam Felty, of Harris township, died early Friday morning after a brief illness. She was aged about 55 years and was a sister of Jacob and Fred Bottorf, the former of College township and the latter of Ferguson. The funeral will be held from her late residence on Monday.

Lots of Life in Them Yet.

People whose forty-fifth birthday is behind them fancy that their power to resist disease is lessened because a cough sticks to them a few days. They change their ideas when they have tried Pineola Balsam, for it goes right to the spot and makes the irratated throat well. The resinous substances in the pine and other trees will stop a cough every time if combined as they are in Ely's Pineola Balsam, which all wide-a-wake druggists have for sale at 25c.

He was recently elected to the Legislature by the largest majority ever given a republican candidate in Union county.

An Honest Man's Story.

Greenville, Pa., January 23, '95.

Dear Sir:—Thank God there is a medicine that will cure catarrh. Mr. Pretzinger, I used your sample box of catarrh which you sent me. May God bless you for your kindness. I used the little box you sent me and about half of a 50 cent jar. They keep it in Chambersburg. I have told a great many people about your medicine. Hon. Squire Britton brother-in-law of mine, is useing it; he says it is helping him very much he has catarrh very bad. Mrs. G. D. Ludwig, daughter of mine is useing your medicine. I use it in the evening before retiring to bed and am feeling better now than I have for the last five years. My head is clear and I have more energy for work and business. Before I used your medicine I felt many a time that I did not care whether I was living or dead; I had no energy; I did not care for anything. I had catarrh over 67 years; mother had catarrh and it turned into consumption; she died in her 64th year. Mr. Pretzinger I think it would pay you to have it put in all the Franklin County papers as I am a reliable, honest man so the people say, middling well acquainted over the County. Yours truly,

Geo. K. Zollinger.

A small sample can be obtained by sending a 2c. stamp to Pretzin ger Bros. Chemists, Dayton, O.

Williamsport Man Missing.

John Moore, a wagonmaker of Williamsport, has been missing from home for over three weeks. The Gazette and Bulletin says that any information regarding the missing man will be gratefully received by his wife at 575 East Third street. Moore is 53 years old, weighed 125 pounds, was 5 feet 3 or 4 inches tall, gray hair and mustache, blue eyes, light complexion. He was dressed in gray trousers, long black overcoat, blue flannel shirt, black necktie, black slouch hat and felt boots.

The Poverty Social.

The gentlemen in charge of the Reformed church are sending out poverty invitations, inviting you to their poverty social which be held in Crider's Exchange on Thursday evening. The indications are that it will be a grand success in every particular. Are you going to attend?
